Total of 6 Accidents Reported Here; Two Suffer Slight Injuries

"One of the safest New Year's in the history of the city" was the comment Police Chief Tom Coon made today after a busy year-end vigil. Only two minor accidents were reported in the city. New Year's Eve and early Friday morning and four were reported Friday afternoon.

Two persons were taken to the hospital as a result of two of the four afternoon accidents, one for a check-up, and the other for treatment of scalp cuts. State patrolmen from the Marion post reported one injury in two accidents.

Eugene E. Pine, 34, of 567 Thompson St. was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated after police said his car struck one parked in front of the Three B's Restaurant on Kenton Ave. Owner of the parked car was not near the scene, and remained unidentified.

Pine posted a bond of $150 for his appearance Monday in Municipal Court. The accident happened at 3:17 a.m. Friday. No damage was reported to Pine's car, but the left front door of the parked car was damaged.

The other accident happening during the night was reported at 10:44 p.m. Thursday. A parked car belonging to P. A. DeSimone of 488 N. Greenwood St. was damaged in the left front end by a hit-skip motorist.

Russell Hoover, 33, of near Richwood was taken to City Hospital for treatment of two cuts over the temple after an accident at 134

Fewer Traffic Deaths Listed On New Year's

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic death toll over the New Year's weekend holiday was running behind the Christmas total by at least 100.

There were 136 persons killed in highway accidents since the survey started at 6 p.m. Thursday (local time). In the corresponding period for the Christmas holiday the toll was 237.

The violent deaths since New Year's Eve was 180. They included 24 persons who perished in fires and 20 others who lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The 180 compared to 285 in the same period during the Christmas holiday. The final Christmas traffic death total was 523.

The Christmas total is included among the National Safety Council's estimated 38,000 persons killed in traffic accidents in 1953, the same as in 1952. It was the first year since 1949 that the toll did not increase. The council said 1953 had the lowest mileage death rate in the history of traffic accident records. It was estimated at 6.9—the

Committees Selected

City Officials Take Oath; New Council Organized

Mayor Harold F. Robinson, City Solicitor George A. Piacentino and members of City Council were administered the oath of their offices yesterday in brief ceremonies at City Hall.

Oaths of office were administered simultaneously to the elected officials at 11:20 a.m. by Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen after which Council held a brief reorganization meeting to make necessary appointments.

First item of business was a resolution to appoint Mrs. Mayme Gorton as clerk of Council for the next two years. It was approved unanimously. Mrs. Gorton has served as clerk of council for the last 11½ years.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS appointing Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance as president pro-tem of Council and Don Williamson as assistant city solicitor for 1954-55 were also passed unanimously.

Following passage of these resolutions, Council President William G. Slack announced that reorganized council committees will begin their duties at the first regular council meeting this year on Jan. 11. With this announcement, the meeting was adjourned.

Another city official elected at the last general election, Harry D. Cahill, city treasurer, was unable to attend yesterday's ceremonies and was sworn in New Year's Eve.

Organization of the various committees of Council as appointed by President Slack for the next two years is as follows:

Finance, Ways and Means — Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward, chairman; Robert G. Haldeman, at-large, and Warren Diehl, at-large.

Streets and Alleys—Ralph W. Williams, Fourth Ward, chairman; Quaintance and James C. Jenkins, Second Ward.

Utilities — Haldeman, chairman, Harold Smith, First Ward, and Herman Rinehart, Third Ward.

Municipal Service—Smith, chairman, Diehl, and Rinehart.

Lands and Buildings — Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward, chairman, Jenkins, and Richard W. Lister, at-large.

Sanitary and Sewers—Rinehart, chairman, Fralich and Williams.

UP FOR CONSIDERATION of Council during the next two years will be 10 recommendations for improvements announced by Mayor Robinson prior to the meeting.

Five of the 10 recommendations are concerned with sewer improvements. Included also two recommendations relative to the city's traffic problems, and three points deal with improvement of the police and fire departments, street lighting in the business district, and improvement of city hall facilities.

700,000 Japs Greet Hirohito, 16 Are Crushed

TOKYO (AP)—At least 16 persons were trampled to death and 30 were injured today as an estimated 700,000 subjects swarmed around the Imperial Palace to extend New Year's greetings to Emperor Hirohito, the newspaper Asahi said tonight.

Kyodo News Agency said the vast throng got out of hand at about 3:30 p.m. (1:30 a.m. EST), the deadline for signing the imperial register and offering best wishes to Hirohito.

Police Overrun

The crowd swarmed toward the gates of the palace grounds as police tried to bar the entrance at the deadline, Kyodo said.

Thousands who had not yet had a chance to sign the register tried to push through. Men, women and children fell under the feet of the onrushing crowd.

There was no immediate word on whether any Americans were among the dead and injured.

The English language Japan News said the crowd gathered in hopes that the Emperor might make a public appearance.

Marines Come To Rescue

The News said two American Marines helped Japanese police rescue persons knocked down by the crowd and prevent a possibly higher death toll.

Before the war only titled Japanese were allowed to enter the palace grounds and sign the imperial register. Since the war, however, everyone has been welcome. Each year hundreds of thousands of Japanese have made it a custom to wish the Emperor well during the new year.

Mild New Year's Weather Continues

By The Associated Press

The New Year's brand of comparatively mild winter weather appeared in prospect for most of the nation again today.

Clear skies prevailed over the southern two-thirds of the nation from coast to coast. There were a few northern spots reporting light falls of snow. The only chilly spot was northern New England where temperatures early today were below zero. It was -7 in Caribou.

Snow flurries fell in the northern Rockies and along the northern tier of states touching the Canadian border from Montana to New England. Another wet area was in the Pacific Northwest, which reported light rain.

Temperatures generally showed little change from New Year's Day. There was a little cooling in the northern Great Plains and some warming along the Gulf Coast.

Still Has Problems

ROME (AP)—Frank Sinatra flew home to Hollywood today, his reconciliation with Ava Gardner still incomplete.

"We are trying to work out our problems. There still are problems," he said.

Ava gave point to that observation by not showing up at the airport to say goodbye.

Ike Continuing Round of Talks With Advisers

4-Hour New Year's Day Parley Followed By Conference Today

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, nearing completion of work on a series of messages to Congress, confers again today with administration advisers.

The President scheduled another early morning session in his office at the Augusta National Golf Club.

This session was set for 8 a.m., EST.

New Year's Session

He started the new year yesterday with a four and a half hour morning conference on the State of the Union message which he will deliver to Congress in person next Thursday.

Then Eisenhower went off for a round of golf while his aides worked on into evening on the document.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, reported after the morning meeting that "quite a lot of progress" was made toward whipping the message into final form. Work also continued on the annual budget and economic reports to Congress.

Top Advisers Attend

The conferences here are being attended by Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge; Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations; Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, head of the Office of Defense Mobilization; Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's top assistant, and other White House aides.

Eisenhower already has completed a report he will make to the nation Monday night on his administration's first year in office. The speech will be carried on television and radio.

KILLED UNDER TRAIN

CLEVELAND (AP)—Charles Lusk, 39, a brakeman on the Cuyahoga Valley Railroad, was crushed to death today by a train at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plant property. The train's engineer said Lusk was riding between two gondola cars hauling scrap steel when he lost his hold and fell.

U.S. Skeptical Over Soviet's Plan for Talks

Acceptance Seen as Move To Block EDC Approval by France

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed hope today that the Berlin foreign ministers meeting actually will open Jan. 25, but they said the Russians still can stall the conference if they wish.

Strong suspicions about Russia's tactics persist because one of Moscow's main purposes in the project is believed to be to delay French action on the proposed European Defense Community and so to delay Western plans for controlled rearmament of West Germany.

Matter of Strategy

Russia can forward this aim by keeping alive hope of successful East-West negotiations, either by promising conferences or actually holding them. The brighter the prospects of international peace by negotiation, the less pressure, presumably, Frenchmen would feel to accept EDC and thereby abandon their deep rooted opposition to any revival of German military strength.

Notes which the Western Powers handed the Soviet Foreign Office yesterday accepted Jan. 25 as the opening date for the Berlin meeting agreed also to a Russian proposal that the place of the meeting be determined by Big Four officials in Germany and said that there is no point now in any further talk about an agenda for the conference since the ministers themselves will be meeting soon.

Possibilities for Delay

Several possibilities of further delay are conceded:

1. The French government is to be reorganized in mid-January after the new president takes office.

2. A site must be selected for the conference. The Western Powers proposed the Allied Control Authority Building, which the Russians do not like. There is some speculation that the Soviets may alternatively propose a former broadcasting headquarters which they control in West Berlin. That almost certainly would meet with ready Western acceptance.

But there also has been speculation that the Reds would propose alternating the sessions between East and West Berlin or among the four occupation sectors of the city. Despite difficulties such as the problem of uninhibited news reporting by Western correspondents, authorities here say such arrangements could be worked out.

If the Russians should unexpectedly insist that the meetings be held in East Berlin, the Western Powers, according to Washington officials, would reject the proposal flatly.

3. Another possible cause of delay is the matter of subjects to be discussed.

In previous note exchanges both the Western Powers and the Soviet government have in effect agreed that the future of Germany is a major topic of importance. Russia has served notice it will bring up its demand for recognition of Red China as a fifth big world power and the Western governments have said that Russia can talk about anything it wants to.

The West has repeatedly called for completion of an Austrian independence treaty and Russia has refused to agree to talk about this at Berlin.

Would Limit Scope

Sen. Gillette Asks Curbs On McCarthy's Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) said today he will ask the Senate to curb broad investigative powers in the field of international relations now held by the committee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

"This is a glaring situation," Gillette said in an interview. "It is something that was never intended and I will ask the Senate to pass on it at the coming session."

McCarthy is chairman of the Government Operations Committee and of its more widely known Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

Wants Authority Rescinded

Gillette said he wants the Senate to rescind authority for the Government Operations Committee to investigate international affairs and give this solely to the Foreign Relations Committee, of which Gillette is a member.

Although he has tangled with McCarthy in the past, Gillette made no mention of the Wisconsin senator in explaining why he sought the change.

"International relationships are delicate now and will be for an unforeseen time," Gillette said. "The Senate has given its Foreign Relations Committee authority in this field.

"We all know that careless actions or statements in this field can jeopardize our international status."

McCarran Complains

Gillette's proposal followed by a day a remark by another Democrat, Sen. McCarran of Nevada, that the investigations subcommitte in its investigations of communism "has stepped over into a field where it was not intended to function at all."

However, McCarran in an interview said nothing about attempting to curb McCarthy's activities. He said on the contrary he thought the investigations subcommittee has "done good work," and emphasized there was nothing personal in his remarks. He and McCarthy often have exchanged compliments.

The Nevadan said, however, he thought the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, of which he is senior Democratic member, "can do all the work necessary on the Senate side" in investigating subversive activities.

They said that Soviet detention camps are "hell holes" where murder and violent death are commonplace.

Urges Probe Of Conditions Within Camp

Young Texan's Report Challenges Statement By Indian Custodians

SEOUL (AP)—A young Texas corporal—one of 23 American war prisoners who originally stayed with the Communists—said today "there might be others who would come out" if given protection from dagger-wielding fellow POWs.

Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor, who changed his mind and asked yesterday to go home, called for an investigation of conditions inside the pro-Communist neutral zone compound and said Indian guards should search it for hidden weapons.

Second of 23

Batchelor, of Kermit, Tex., is the second of the 23 Americans to ask repatriation.

His story of life in the wire-enclosed compound near Panmunjom, told during a 40-minute press conference here, conflicted at many points with reports of the Indian command on conditions in the stockade now holding 21 Americans, 1 Briton and 327 South Koreans.

The 22-year-old corporal calmly faced a battery of newsmen, cameras and microphones as he made these points:

1. Both South Korean and American pro-Red prisoners in the camp are armed with daggers to intimidate any prisoner who wishes to escape "It would be difficult at times for the Americans to get out."

2. Chinese Communist leaders have "some contact" with prisoners in the neutral zone compound, despite Indian reports to the contrary.

3. "A lot of fellows there are quite mixed up and there might be others who would come out" if they had a chance.

4. All outgoing letters from the camp are written jointly and read to the other prisoners.

5. The prisoners are split into factions and the leaders of various groups sometimes fail to pass on information given them by Indian officials.

Claim No Weapons

Indian spokesmen have said repeatedly there are no weapons in the compound and that it would be a simple matter for any prisoner wishing repatriation to contact a guard.

Polish Youth Gangs Raising Hob With Reds

Hundreds Rounded Up By Communist Police, Sent to Labor Camps

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hundreds of teen-agers have been arrested in Poland in recent weeks in a drive to put down acts of hooliganism by roving gangs of young rowdies threatening Communist order.

Polish newspapers reaching here report almost daily raids by police in cities like Warsaw, Krakow and Lublin and in smaller towns. Young rowdies are rounded up and sent to labor camps.

Western diplomats in Vienna see the rowdyism as an expression of restlessness of Polish youth with Communist restrictions and only indirectly as a form of anticommunism.

The newspapers say that Communist youth organizations have

Lord Norwich, Noted British Diplomat, Dies

LONDON (AP) — Lord Norwich, eminent British politician, diplomat and man of letters, died yesterday aboard the French steamship Colombie off Vigo, Spain. He was 63.

Lord Norwich—who was Alfred Duff Cooper before he was raised to the peerage in 1952—collapsed in his cabin while on a cruise to Jamaica. His wife, society beauty and former actress Diana Manners, was with him when he died. She planned to accompany his body to England by plane today.

A member of Parliament for over 20 years, Lord Norwich served as minister of war and first lord of the Admiralty in prewar Conservative governments. He was minister of information in Prime Minister Churchill's war Cabinet from 1940 to 1943 and then was Britain's first postwar ambassador to France.

His political career is best remembered, however, for his resignation from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's Cabinet and bitter outburst against the 1938 Munich pact with Hitler. He quit as first lord of the Admiralty and devoted himself to an outspoken campaign against appeasement.

His death ended a story book love that began 34 years ago when he wed Diana Manners after overcoming strong opposition from her father, the Duke of Rutland. He was only a minor Foreign Office official at the time.

To earn money so he could turn to politics, Diana went on the stage. She scored an instant success in London and New York as the Madonna in Max Reinhardt's production, "The Miracle," in the 1920s.

Lord Norwich's autobiography, "Old Men Forget," was published a few months ago.

Prisoner Tally Correct, Says U.N. Command

Backs Disputed Head Count Conducted by Indian Custodians

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The U. N. Command today gave the Indian Custodian Command a sweeping endorsement of its head count of Chinese prisoners of last Thursday—a count the Communists angrily protested.

The U. N. Command said it regards "as a normal and necessary administrative action," the head count which gave 135 pro-Communist Chinese POWs their chance to return to the Reds.

Conform To Policy

The formal U. N. statement said: "If this checking of the prisoner of war rosters affords some prisoners an opportunity to request repatriation, this is in conformity with United Nations Command policy that every effort should be made to ensure that every prisoner in the custody of the Indian custodian force should have every opportunity to make a free choice as to where he wishes to go."

The statement diametrically opposed the stand of South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai, who protested the head count on behalf of his government.

An Indian spokesman said the Red protest came late Thursday, immediately after the check that returned 135 Chinese prisoners to the Communists out of 4,385 prisoners questioned.

Ask No Questions

The Indians asked no questions. They simply called prisoners from the enclosures' 10 compounds, three at a time, separated the men, had them write their names and serial numbers on a slip of paper, and marched them past a gate where an Indian officer checked his master roster.

The 135 took this opportunity to ask for repatriation.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission met for an unusual confidential session today and it was reported the Communist protest was discussed.

An Indian spokesman declined to say so specifically, but announced afterward that a "memorandum will be sent to both sides."

Pyun bitterly criticized the head count as a violation of armistice terms providing a 90-day period for explanations to prisoners who refused to go home. This period ended Dec. 23.

The ROK foreign minister hinted that steps might be taken to liberate about 8,000 anti-Communist Koreans in Indian custody if the head count continued.

DISPOSE OF STOCK

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Russell T. Young and members of her family have disposed of 49.8 per cent of the stock in the Roseville Pottery Co. of Zanesville, makers of art potteryware in return for two buildings in downtown Zanesville. Mrs. Leota Clement of Zanesville now controls 99.6 per cent of the stock. The buildings involved had been owned by the pottery corporation.

Marion Soldier Presumed Dead

Hope Abandoned for Sgt. Edwin L. Morgan

A letter from the office of the Adjutant General in Washington, D. C., today notified Mrs. Betty Leatherman of near Marion, that her son, Sgt. Edwin L. Morgan "was presumed to have died Dec. 31, 1953." He had been missing in action in Korea since Dec. 2, 1950.

A veteran of the Inchon invasion, Sgt. Morgan was listed as missing after his unit was cut off while fighting alongside the Marines around the Changjin Reservoir in North Korea.

Born in Marion July 11, 1928, Sgt. Morgan attended Harding High School and enlisted in the Army Aug. 7, 1948 at the Marion recruiting station. He took his basic training at Fort Bragg, N. C. and sailed for overseas service in Japan in November of that year. His unit went into Korea after the outbreak of the war there. According to an Army record he was promoted to sergeant May 20, 1953.

In a telephone conversation with his mother in April, 1950 he told of attending a cooks and bakers school at that time. He is believed to have been serving with his unit as a cook when reported missing.

Besides his mother who resides on Route 7, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Naomi Wise of S. State St.

Special Sermons

Ministers To Welcome Coming of 1954 Sunday

For the first Sunday of the new year, many Marion pastors have prepared appropriate sermons for their congregations, and worship hours will include special observances. Rites of communion and baptism will be included in the services on Sunday, and three churches will hold installation of new officers. There will be special music by the choirs.

First Presbyterian Church will hold a service of infant baptism at morning worship hour on Sunday.

Services of communion for Sunday morning have been announced by Epworth Methodist, Forest Lawn Presbyterian and Calvary, Oakland and Greenwood EUB Churches.

At the public worship service at Emanuel Lutheran Church Sunday morning, the newly-elected vestry officers will be installed.

They are Willis Nye, elder, Fred Baldauf, trustee, Tom Boyd, Carl Schaadt, Edward Schwaderer and Paul Sycks, deacons, and Richard Langdon, recording secretary. After the conclusion of the service, the annual congregational meeting will be held.

Reports will be given by Carl Campbell, financial secretary and treasurer, Robert Syster, recording secretary, Ivan Barnhart, building fund treasurer, and by the pastor, Rev. M. E. Hollensen.

Installation of new Consistory members at First Evangelical and Reformed Church will be held Sunday at morning worship hour. The group includes those elected at the church's annual meeting last Sunday, Carmi Church, elder; Ray Reidenbaugh, Floyd Gehres, and Harold Wade, deacons; and Mrs. Francis Reardon, deaconess. Concluding the service will be celebration of the sacrament of communion. A meeting of the new consistory members and those retiring from office will be held Monday night. After school on Monday, the Bible Singers will resume weekly rehearsals.

Officers of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church will be installed for the year at the worship service Sunday morning. The group includes George Dutt, president; Lewis Hollenbach, vice president; Mrs. Alva Gantt, secretary; Miss Katryn Lusch, financial secretary; Elmer Woltmann, treasurer; Alvin Andrews and George Reinwald Jr., elders; Paul Kur and Mrs. Robert Whittaker, Carl and John Soulier, trustees. On Sunday at 2 p.m., the Youth Fellowship will meet at the chuch for worship service and games. The Womens Guild will meet Tuesday night and the Consistory Wednesday night in charge of Mr. Dutt.

Annual congregational meeting of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church is set for Wednesday night. The choir will present special music at the Sunday morning communion service.

The Wesley Methodist Church congregation will start the new year with the exterior lighting project completed with an electric cross given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pence. Youth Fellowship members will have on sale attachments for automobile license plates reading "Wesley Methodist, 248 Olney, Marion, O." Organizations of the church meeting next week include the Youth Fellowship council Monday night at the W. A. Ginder home, and the official board and the finance commission both on Tuesday night. The eighth and ninth grade Sunday School Class taught by the pastor, Rev. W. L. Stafford, will have a party Friday night with Sally Faust as hostess. A group of 25 from the Youth Fellowship will attend next week-end, the Lima District Youth Institute at Grace Church in Lima Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Ginder will serve as a counselor and Rev. Stafford as an instructor.

Filling the pulpit of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church at morning worship service on Sunday will be James Metzger, student at Hamma Divinity School at Springfield.

Christian Science

The spiritual basis of genuine peace and brotherhood will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" which will be read at Christian Science Church services Sunday. The Responsive Reading is from the King James Version of the Bible.

Epworth Methodist

Highlighting a series of Sunday evening Epworth Methodist Youth Fellowship programs on boy and girl friendships, a special feature for the first Sunday of the new year will be a "Blue Print Wedding." This will be at 7 p.m. Sunday in the church sanctuary, open to anyone interested in attending.

The series of programs to date has included discussions on "The Ideal Girl," "The Ideal Boy," "The Ideal Couple," "The Ideal Date," and "The Ideal Courtship," and at further Sunday night meetings the young people will consider "The Ideal Family," "The Ideal Community," "The Ideal Nation" and "The Ideal World."

Following the "wedding" on Sunday night there will be a reception held in Epworth Fellowship Hall. Helping to plan the program were the pastor, Rev. W. C. Eyster, and Miss Margaret Huffman, director of Christian education.

Change in schedule of Sunday School time has been made with the period beginning a quarter hour later than previously, 9:30 instead of 9:15.

At morning worship service, the congregation will observe the beginning of the Bishops' Church Attendance Crusade and Festival of Faith. The general theme will be "Give God a Chance, Now," and in the January through Easter period worship emphasis will be on "What Methodists Believe." There will be observance of communion, and the anthem will be "Let Us Break Bread Together." Recognition of preparatory membership classes will be included.

For Intermediate Fellowship at 5:30 p.m. the theme will be "The Festival Season in One of Our Neighboring Churches" with Larry Henry as leader. On Monday night, the Mothers Class will be entertained by Mrs. Betty Markwith. The Commission on Education will meet Tuesday night in the office of the director of Christian education, and the Commission on Finance will meet that night in the Choir Room and the official board in the Service Chapel. Amazing Grace

The captain of a slave ship reads a book

An old windjammer tied up at Southampton. The captain staggered down the gangplank, paused and looked back at his ship. Then he disappeared up the ancient cobblestone street.

Capt. John Newton was only 23 years old but he had been to sea ever since his pious mother had died when he was 7. He had sailed with his sea-captain father, had done a trick in the British Navy, deserted, been caught, put in irons and whipped in public. Defiant, he signed on the lowest of all craft . . . a slave ship. He hardly knew how to read, but he knew the sea and it wasn't long until he was walking the bridge as master of his own slaver, with a whip in one hand and a gun in the other.

John Newton wasn't drunk that day in 1784 when he staggered down the plank. He was sick . . . sick physically, spiritually and morally. Most of all he was sick of the filthy slave business. On a long voyage from Brazil he had read a book called "Imitation of Christ." Then came a storm . . . a vicious storm that threatened for days to send him to the bottom. When the storm calmed he fell to thinking . . . thinking about Christ who Thomas Kempis had written about in his book.

Not an Englishman in His Majesty's Empire would have dreamed that Capt. John Newton would have quit the sea for the ministry. That is, not an Englishman except Capt. John Newton. But when he paused for a last look at his ship, that's exactly what the hard-boiled skipper had in mind.

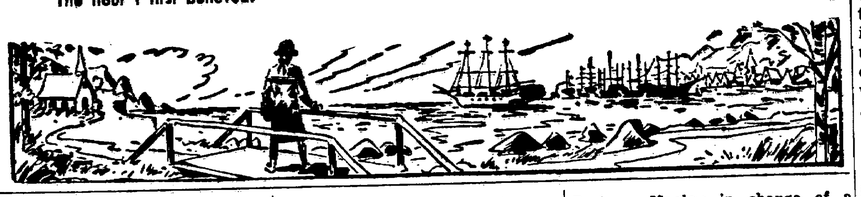
After 16 years of self education, John Newton was ordained and given a little church at the town of Olney. But he never gave up his sea garb. In the sunset of life, as pastor of one of London's greatest churches, he appeared in the pulpit dressed like a sailor—with a cane in one hand and a Bible in the other. But it was while serving his little church at Olney that he wrote. . . .

Amazing grace how sweet the sound,
That saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found.
Was blind, but now I see.

'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
And grace my fears relieved;
How precious did that grace appear
The hour I first believed.

Thro' many dangers, toils and snares,
I have already come;
'Tis grace hath bro't me safe thus far,
And grace will lead me home.

When we've been there ten thousand years,
Bright shining as the sun,
We've no less days to sing God's praise
Than when we first begun.



Welcome—1954

A Sermonette

By WALTER C. EYSTER
Pastor of Epworth Methodist Church

Thrilling! Just to think of a whole new year ahead of us!

Possibilities—No end!

Opportunities—Unlimited!

And what is more—here we are living in this greatest of all nations on the face of this globe. Living as free democratic people and especially for us here in this part of the country we live near the center of our national life between New York and Chicago—Detroit and Columbus—here where the cross currents of our national life are ever upon us in so many different ways—rural and urban. How can we make this a greater year than ever before?

WHAT YOU AND I will be able to accomplish and contribute to our society during this great new year will be determined by our dedication. The real satisfactions you and I will receive in our living will come as a by-product of this dedication.

Up in Wisconsin the Methodist Church has as its spiritual leader Bishop H. Clifford Northcott. Only recently he wrote: "Nothing left loose ever does anything creative. No horse gets anywhere until he is harnessed. No steam or gas ever drives anything until it is confined. No Niagara is ever turned into light and power until it is tunneled. No life ever grows until it is focused, dedicated and disciplined." Out of our dedication will come our accomplishments and our satisfactions.

MANY OF US were greatly surprised to read where the psychologist, William Moulton Marston, in a two-year period asked 3,000 persons "What have you to live for?" He was shocked to find that 94 per cent were simply enduring the present while they waited for the future; waited for some one to die; waited for "something" to happen; waited for children to grow up and leave home; waited for next year; waited for another time to take a long-dreamed-about trip; waited for tomorrow without realizing that all anyone ever has is today because yesterday is gone and tomorrow never comes.

Did you read where a young man found a dollar bill as he walked along the road? From that time on he never lifted his eyes from the road as he walked. In 40 years he accumulated 29,516 buttons, 54,172 pins, $6.18 in money, a stooped body and a miserly disposition. He missed the sunlight, the smiles of friends, the beauty of flowers and trees and the blue of the sky as well as the opportunity to serve his fellow men.

What a contrasting picture is given us by Dr. Roy A. Burkhart, pastor of the Community Church in Columbus, when he points out that over the exit in the gymnasium at DePauw University is a sentence that the players by tradition look up at before going out on the field to play. It is this: "Sixty Minutes of Action, no alibis, no regrets."

YOU AND I MUST learn to look up and to see the golden opportunities ever coming to us on life's playing field of the present passing moment. Greatness and goodness are all about us. One of the most vigorous and long-lived university presidents in America was Charles E. Eliot of Harvard. In trying to account for his endurance he spoke of being "expectant of good." Somewhere I have heard the saying, "Even a fool can count the apples on a tree, but it takes a wise man to count the trees in an apple." To see the tree in the seed and then help it to grow, to pick the winner before he has won his laurels and then help him to win, to discover the poet or genius in that dreamy, restless non-conforming schoolboy, and then help him to find himself—that is the creative kind of wisdom which keeps life growing and entitles us to be called "workers together with God."

I am wondering in our dedication if this is not one of our most important considerations. After all—what are we working and striving for during this great new year? Often I find myself repeating the lines written by my close friend— who was so tragically killed in China in 1947—the late Bishop Schuyler E. Garth.

"Let me by the self the Potter dreamed I'd be;
Let me have the faith my tears demand of me;
Let me grow a love the world expects of me;
Let me find a cause that pulls the best from me;
This I make my creed—
And let it plant the seed for a life God needs
To save a world that bleeds."

In the Upper Room devotional booklet sometime ago Dr. A. W. Blackwood tells that while he was a minister in Columbus, he had in his congregation a prominent clergyman and educator. He writes: "In a day, a week, or a year that clergyman could do more work and better work than anyone I ever had known. As his pastor I once asked him the secret. He smiled as he told me something I needed to know: "My Lord taught me a long while ago to live without worry, work without hurry, and look forward without fear."

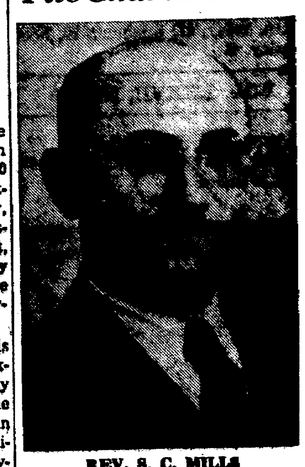
—:—

"WHY SO LITTLE accomplished at times?" we ask. "Why so little satisfaction in our living?" Charles C. Alberston would help us see—

Time to build houses,
Time to deck halls,
Time to plant vineyards,
Time to rear walls;
Time to make money,
Time to hoard wealth,
Time to court honor,
Time to gain health;
Time to be famous,
Time to be fair,
Time to seek pleasure,
No matter where.
But no time for worship,
No time for God,
No time to follow
Where saints have trod;
No time to study
The world of grace,
No time for running
The Christian race.
No harvest of glory,
No joy to know,
We were always too busy—
No time to sow."

Well, here it is, 1954 A. D. Welcome,—Happy New Year to you. May you find achievement—satisfaction—love and God ever with you.

Fite Church Guest



REV. S. C. MILLS

Rev. Sanford C. Mills of Columbus will speak at Fite Memorial Baptist Church on Sunday and show sound and color motion pictures of his missionary work among people of his nationality in that city. Born in Russia-Poland, he came to America in 1921 and before entering mission work was engaged in business in this state. His work is supported by a mission board with headquarters in New York City. Organizations of the church meeting next week include the Men's Brotherhood Tuesday night, the Willing, Workers Class that night, entertained by Mrs. William Cobb, and Women's Missionary Society meeting Thursday night with Mrs. Arthur Miley as hostess. Monthly business meeting of the congregation will be Wednesday night. Cottage prayer meetings will be held during the week in preparation for the union revival services to be held at Epworth Methodist Church.

TO CONDUCT SERVICE

UPPER SANDUSKY — Rev. Francis Xavier Knopp, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Saelm Township, will conduct the religious service at the Wyandot County Home Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

DIES IN WARREN

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services will be held Sunday for John J. Smith, 62, vice president of the Denman Tire & Rubber Co. of New York and a former director of the Denman Rubber Mfg. Co. of Warren. A Warren resident for 27 years, he died New Year's Eve.

"My Wife Is Sentimental . . ."

"My wife," said one man frankly, "does not approve my buying a family plot at this time. But my WIDOW would never forgive me for leaving her without it. I know she's sentimental, but so am I — too much so to dream of passing the buck to her. Why should I expect her to fulfill an obligation which I myself would hesitate to do?"

Confident Living

How To Get Along With People

Not long ago, I was staying at a hotel in a large city. I came down to the dining room for breakfast one morning and, when the waiter came to take my order, I prefaced it by telling him, "I'm on a diet. I want to take off a few pounds."

DR. PEALE

"That's too bad," he said. "You can bring me a little glass of orange juice to start with," I ordered. "Then I want a small thin piece of dry toast, no butter, and a cup of coffee. No cream. No sugar."

For some reason or other it always seems humiliating to give so sparse an order, and this waiter made no secret of his disgust. He looked at me, grinned and went away, and he came back with a huge glass of orange juice, two eggs, bacon and even fried potatoes, along with a couple of sweet rolls.

"I didn't order that," I complained.

"I know you didn't," he answered, "but I brought it to you anyways."

"Why did you do that? I'm trying to reduce."

"Because you need strength," he told me, "you need vitality. You have a job to do. And I like you."

"Well, I like you too," I replied, "but why are you taking such good care of my health?"

"Do you remember," he asked, "a speech you made at a convention dinner in this hotel about eight months ago?"

I remembered.

"THAT NIGHT," he went on, "I was waiting table at the dinner. You talked about bombarding people with prayers. You said that if there was anybody you weren't getting along with, it would help to 'shoot' prayers at them. I'd never heard about shooting prayers at people; I'd always directed mine only to God. At first, it seemed a queer idea to me, but I kept thinking about it, became interested, and finally tried your suggestion.

"You see," he went on, "I have a brother. He was the meanest man you could ever meet and we'd fought for years. Then I started bombarding him with those prayers you told about. And what do you know? We get along pretty good now. That plan worked."

As he talked, I was so interested I forgot about my diet and ate every bit of that enormous breakfast. This pleased him and when I rose to go he gave my hand a hearty shake and said, "Brother, it works."

And it does work. Surround with prayers the people you don't seem to get along with and you'll notice a difference. Send out prayers of good will, prayers of generosity and friendship.

THE FIRST difference you'll notice will be in yourself. Doing this kind of praying makes you more extroverted, and people like extroverts. They become conscious that you love people and are trying to help them and believe in them.

As you pray for people, you can almost watch yourself flow out And, as you flow out, others will flow in toward you in friendliness. Life comes to you instead of flowing away from you.

Of course, you have to give up hate. And negative attitudes can cancel out your prayers. You will have to try to fill your heart with love, then concentrate in a positive attitude of good will on the person at whom you're shooting the prayers. Then, as the Psalms advise, "Leave it all quietly to God," and you will find the friendly spirit which you send out coming right back to you. Through the practice of this technique you'll have no trouble getting along with people.

MRS. GEORGE TAYLOR

Women's Work Director Named

Y Appoints Successor To Miss Marilyn Blass

New secretary of women's and girls' work at the Marion YMCA is Mrs. George H. Taylor. She replaces Miss Marilyn Blass who resigned recently.

Mrs. Taylor, a native of St. Joseph, Mo., attended grade and high school there, as well as the Junior College of the University of Missouri. She received her BA degree from Butler University in Indianapolis, Ind.

She has served as director of education at First Christian Church in Wilson, N. C., and the Gordon Christian Church in Kinston, N.C.

Her previous youth work has been with summer conferences, Scout camps, interdenominational youth councils and conferences, the Christian Youth Conference of North America, and the General Assembly of the United Christian Youth Movement.

TO BROADCAST MESSIAH

A radio transcription of the Marion Civic Chorus performance of the oratorio, "The Messiah," will be heard Sunday at 10 p.m. over Station WMRN, spokesmen for the chorus announced today. The original presentation was the first Sunday night in December and was recorded at that time for the future broadcast. Director of the chorus was Prof. Rexford Keller, head of the music department at Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, and the guest soloists were from Columbus, Delaware, and Cleveland. Mrs. Earl N. Hale is chorus president and she was the contralto soloist for the singing of the world famous Handel composition here.

School and Older Youth Fellowship groups will attend next week-end the Lima District Mid-Winter Institute at Grace Church in Lima .

Emmanuel Baptist

In the sermon on Sunday morning at Emmanuel Baptist Church, Rev. C. E. Hershey will explain the ordinance of the Lord's Table, showing who should partake of it, when it should be served, and what the elements typify.

The evening message will be the first in a series of sermons on the general subject, "The Devil."

CONTEST PLANNED

Plans were discussed for sponsoring a children's contest in cooperation with the YMCA at a recent meeting of Labor United. Winners in the contest will receive a year's membership to the Y, furnished by the Labor United organization. It also was proposed to furnish a room in the new hospital. A meeting is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Central Labor Union Hall.

Citywide Services Slated Here Jan. 10

Plans of the Marion County Ministerial Association underway since 1951 to bring back to Marion the Taylor Brothers Evangelistic Party for another city-wide Spiritual Crusade will be realized Jan. 10. On that date, Rev. Charles Taylor, preacher, and Rev. Laurie Taylor, musician, will begin a two-week meeting at Epworth Methodist Church here. Services will be each night at 7:30. Rev. H. V. Falor is president of the Ministerial Association.

Special music for the meetings by Rev. Laurie Taylor is presented on the large Steinway piano which he transports with him, and at various services Rev. Charles Taylor presents in addition to his sermons many color views he has taken of places and events of interest visited during his travels. Special nights are set up for each week of the services which will continue through Jan. 25. Series f cottage prayer meetings in preparation for the union effort have been announced for next week by two churches of the city.

...better bathing, a radiant complexion

So clean feeling in the bath . . .
A refreshing beauty bath in water softer than rain is yours whenever you wish. A bath in the creamy, lasting, soft water suds is an experience you'll never forget. You'll feel every pore being thoroughly cleansed . . . and the suds rinse off in a jiffy, leaving you feeling really clean all over.

With no more "BATHTUB-RING" . . .
The old-fashioned but very familiar "bathtub-ring" is not dirt. It is soap-curd formed when soap tries to soften hard water. With soft water service there is no curd formed . . . and no ring. Just think of the time and scouring powder you'll save when you clean the bath room.

. . . and so saving, too.
SOAP. Thousands of households have proved that softened water saves soap—sometimes half, usually more. Ask to see our amazing soap test that proves just how much you can save.
WATER HEATING. You save substantial amounts of fuel used for heating water—often as much as 50%—with softened water and scale-free heating coils.
PLUMBING BILLS. You banish scale and clogged pipes when you have soft water service installed in your home. You also stop annoying faucet drips caused by scale. Saves repairs, too.

Pope Declares TV Precious But Dangerous

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius today called television "both a precious and dangerious instrument"

In an statement addressed to Italian bishops on the eve of Italy's first regular TV broadcasts, the Pope explained this is so "because of the deep reaction it (TV) is destined to exert on the public and private life of the nation."

"We recognize fully this new conquest of science," the Pope said. "It is not difficult to understand the innumerable advantages of television and the many services it can provide man for his perfection."

"In these days," the Pope declared, "the cinema, sports and the hard necessities of daily work tend to keep family members away from home more and more of the time and to upset the natural development of family life.

"Television can serve to bring the family together again in the home and to keep them from the dangers of unhealthy places."

"Unlike the theater and the cinema whose audiences are limited to those who wish to attend, television comes into the home and is seen by persons of all ages. Television programs are, in the most part, made up of films and theatrical spectacles and the number that fully satisfy Christian morality is still too small."

Farm Youth Meet Booked at Ashland

Farm youths from Marion County as well as those from 11 other northern Ohio counties are eligible to attend the Farm Bureau Youth Conference to be held Jan. 9 at the Methodist Church School in Ashland, Marion Rickly, field supervisor for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, announced today.

The one-day session will consist of youth group officer training and recreation. Featured at the meeting will be a discussion of the work and function of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, given by Vincent R. Napoli of Cleveland, special FBI agent.

Reservations for the conference should be sent to Rickly before Jan. 6. His address is Route 2, Lakeville, O.

Marion Soldier Returns From Service in Korea

A Marion service man, Sgt. Charles N. Sharp, is among the Ohio men returning from Korea aboard the U. S. N. S. General N. M. Walker, due to arrive in San Francisco today, according to an Associated Press report. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clurid E Sharp of 601 E. George St.

In service since July, 1952, Sgt. Sharp has been in Korea since Dec. 26, that year. He took his basic training at Fort Riley, Kan. On duty on the front lines for most of his overseas service he was wounded in action April 17 last year and was hospitalized for about a month. Prior to going into service he attended Vernon Junior High School.

Returning also aboard the General Walker is Pvt. Joseph D. Williford, 215 W. North Ave., Ada.

FBI Captures Pair Sought in Bank Robbery

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—FBI agents said today a young couple, wanted in Houston, Tex., in the $57,000 robbery of the National Bank of Houston, Tex., were captured here last night.

Special Agent Ray L. Faisst identified the pair as James David Mitchell, 22, and his wife, Lola, 18, a native of New Orleans.

Faisst said both will be arraigned today before the U. S. Commissioner here. Mitchell, one of four men hunted in the bank robbery last Thursday, will be charged with violating the federal bank robbery law. His wife has been named as a material witness.

Mitchell's arrest leaves only one of the four alleged bank robbers at large. The two in custody are Donny Norris Allen, 19-year-old employe of the bank, and Johnny Gonzales Navarro, 24.

Police were still looking for Nick Mitchell, 43-year-old uncle of the younger Mitchell.

Allen admitted being an accomplice in the robbery and he implicated the other three, Houston police said.

DIES IN CALIFORNIA

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A member of the family that founded Eaton, Ohio, died Thursday in Beverly Hills. She was Mrs. Sallie Stephens Fogarty, 84-year-old sister of the late William D. Stephens, one-time California governor. Relatives said her ancestors were among the Virginia colony settlers in 1629, and that members of the family founded Eaton, where Mrs. Fogarty was born.

Income Tax Office Prepares for Rush

Information regarding the filing of income tax returns for the year 1953 has been released by the treasury's internal revenue at Columbus.

According to the bulletin persons with a gross income of $600 or more must file a return between Jan. 1 and March 15 this year. Assistance in preparing returns may be secured at the local office, Room 7, 148 W. Center St. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. beginning today and continuing through March 15.

Employes at the office are J. H. Sells, W. R. Tracewell and G. L. Hirneise.

Persons desiring help should bring all information as to income, wages, rents, expenses and deductions and a copy of the previous year's return. All wage slips received from employers must be attached to returns even though no tax was withheld from the wages. A self-employment or Social Security tax of 2¼ per cent is imposed on individuals having earnings from self-employment, the bulletin states.

Community Chest To Hold First '54 Meeting Monday

The Marion Community Foundation will start the new year of 1954 with its annual meeting scheduled for Monday night at the YMCA. The time is 7:30 p.m.

At this time the various agencies comprising the Red Feather Services will make their annual reports and new members will be elected to the Foundation Board.

The meeting is open to the general public and all persons contributing to the annual Community Chest campaign. Many of the campaign leaders and volunteers who served during the recent drive also will be present.

It is important to the community as well as to the Foundation that not only the board members and officers and representatives of the agencies but citizens interested in community welfare, be present, Charles D. Harmon, president, stated today.

The Foundation is made up of the following welfare and character building organizations: Boy Scouts, Club Co-Ed, Emergency Welfare Fund, Family Service Society, Fresh Air Fund, Girl Scouts, Emergency Hospitalization Fund, USO.

Connecticut claims it was the first U.S. state to license auto drivers—that was in 1907.

'Comes the Revolution'

Pro-Red GIs Dreaming of Cadillacs and Vengeance

Editor's Note: Here is another close look at life in the Soviet Union, as observed by William L. Ryan in his extensive travels around that country.

By WILIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Citizen Savelov was vexed.

"At the beginning of July on Vodopyanova Street," he wrote to his daily newspaper, "there were assigned 62 apartments.

"In all the apartments there was supposed to be running water. The water did not run for a whole month. Then stoppers were jammed into some of the taps. After that you could get water, but only on the first floor. The house has gas, but for the first month the gas could not be turned on because the pipes leaked."

This is just one of dozens of plaintive letters which appear in the Soviet press. The Communist Party and government runs these letter-to-the-editor columns in the provincial press apparently as a safety valve, so citizens can let off the steam of their aggravation. When things go wrong, the party and government turn the citizens' wrath against lower-level functionaries and officials. These are accused of "bureaucratic methods" and similar sins, but they could do little about the situation anyway.

Citizen Savelov's letter appeared in the newspapers of Baku, oil city of the Azerbaijan Soviet Republic. There were many such missives.

Housewife Zemskaya, for example, complained bitterly:

"At the end of June, 1953, we received an apartment in a new building, 15 Zavokzalny St. We were happy to get the new apartment assigned to us, hoping to have all the necessary conveniences.

"However, our hopes have not been realized. We are not able to use the electric power to light the apartment. There is no transformer and the lamps quickly burn out.

"In the apartment on the second floor, there are no water taps. On the first floor, the water taps leak. The doors and floors are made from warped lumber. In many apartments, the doors already stick and the floors have cracked, many chinks appearing."

N. Shatokhin also was disillusioned. He wrote:

"In June we started living in a new house at 2 Bakhikanov St. However, the area on which the house is located is still cluttered with so much building material—iron rods, stones, gravel and sand—that in wet weather it is impossible to get into the street. Often it is necessary to come all the way down from the fifth floor to the basement, climb out the window and get onto another street."

Citizen G. Matisovich thought to pretty up his apartment:

"I bought in the store a can of oil paint. The label said in big letters it was for floors and would dry in 72 hours after covering an article.

"This paint I used on my apartment floors. After more than a month, the paint did not dry. Shoes and furniture stick to the floors."

These are only a few of the complaints I saw during a stay of only a few days in Baku. Such grievances are constantly being aired in all Soviet capitals, including Moscow.

How can this happen so consistently in a country which lays claim to being one of the greatest powers? Watch any ordinary building project in any Soviet capital, and you wonder how it is possible for the Soviet Union to build a strong nation.

The labor force for ordinary construction is made up of third rate personnel, many of them women and boys. They are among the lowest paid industrial workers in the U.S.S.R. If you watch long enough, you can see them inevitably wrecking their machinery by inept handling. Outside my own apartment I watched every morning and saw a huge steam shovel gradually go to pieces in a mass of tangled wreckage.

You see women and boys laying bricks in such a way that you can peep through holes in the brick wall as it rises. You see old women and young girls slamming away with hammers and gossiping unconcernedly all the while. You see an old woman pushing wet cement down a chute by the simple process of stepping into the chute, sinking into the cement and shoving it along by the weight of her ample body.

Yet the Soviet Union builds good buildings, too. Buildings like the Foreign Ministry and Moscow University structures in Moscow, the big industrial plants, the hydroelectric plants and other important structures are scattered throughout the republics.

The answer is this: There is not enough manpower and know-how to spare for the consumer side of Soviet industry. The best skilled manpower and know-how go into heavy industry. The huge Soviet army gobbles up young men at 18 and keeps many millions out of the national economy. Labor camps are full of men and women who could be put to better use at normal civilian work.

Baku makes a good example of the Soviets' problem because it is a city which, by their own accounts, they have rebuilt from the ground up. That, of course, is a broad exaggeration. The old city of Baku still has its fantastic old slums, where ancient narrow streets wind in and out among dwellings hardly fit for human habitation.

But the new city of Baku shows marked signs of wear and tear. Much of what should be the new city has the look of squalor, pervaded by the stench of oil in a town utterly surrounded by a forest of oil derricks.

Like the other Soviet capitals, it has its endless dreary queues of men and women waiting to get into the stores, waiting in line for milk, going through the aggravating process of buying in state stores.

A traveler gets the impression that it doesn't matter how many or how few rubles a Soviet citizen has. Life will be drab anyway.

Although the Egyptians usually are credited with domesticating the cat, modern domestic breeds are supposed to have crossed Egyptian types with the European wildcat.

Nearly All Things Are Possible

While year-end reviews are in style there's one that needs to be made by 161 million Americans, privately. They need to review what they believe is possible.

The fact is most of them already have done this — privately. No one knows what they have concluded. A great many interested parties are guessing.

To whatever extent the beliefs coincide in significantly large numbers, the shape of the immediate future will be influenced.

If there has been general agreement that the United States can have peacetime prosperity without the stimulation of a war boom and casualty lists, the United States will be prosperous.

If people share the belief that Washington has taken a new lease on life as a source of leadership, there will be no more need to worry about popular loss of confidence in the federal government, as there was during the twilight months of the Truman administration.

If they subscribe to the conviction their country now is on the threshold of a golden era of living, with higher spiritual and material standards than ever were attainable before, a golden era will dawn.

Men are not at the mercy of the world's mistakes. They can rise above them. They can surmount their hatreds, fears and prejudices. They can do within reasonable limits anything they can imagine being done.

They can split atoms, fly better than birds, conquer disease, live at peace with one another, push back the age-old threat of mass starvation, learn to love one another and send colored images through the air. But first they must believe such things are possible.

No one can know for certain what the people may have decided is possible in 1954. Everybody with things and ideas to sell will spend their time for the next 12 months trying to find out.

War Threat Against Thailand

The possibility that the United States might get sucked into another hopeless war in southeastern Asia seems to have been knocked in the head by Secretary of State Dulles.

The State Department evidently shares a view common among diplomats and especially among old hands in Asiatic power politics—never assume that anything is the way it appears to be in Asia.

There is no inclination to belittle the seriousness of a Communist move in Indochina which threatens the security of Thailand, a vital source of tin, rubber and rice to feed the teeming population of Japan.

But among the old Asiatic hands there is no inclination either to belittle the fact this move was being made before the end of World War II, that it is based on Asia's rising tide of nationalism and that it can't succeed unless Thailand is betrayed from within or the threatening Communists get help from China.

Thailand, itself, is free and has shown its good will as a member of the United Nations and a fighting participant of the Korean war. A direct attack on it by Chinese Communists would constitute an emergency.

But military actions in Indochina by Communists who might lay the groundwork for an attack on Thailand do not constitute an emergency. And if an emergency comes, the United States will not again let hordes of Asiatics pin down its outnumbered fighting men in a land war which can neither be won nor lost.

Wonderment Among the Ruins

Eventually, the dirt and grime which settle down over our cities day in and day out will get ahead of the white wings and housekeepers.

From then on, the cities' fate will be in the hands of archeologists. These excavators sometime may perform as scientific projects what the sanitation department was unable to perform as a housekeeping chore.

One of their important excavations in 1953 uncovered the floor of the room in which Socrates stood during his trial in Athens nearly 2,500 years ago. By 4000 A.D. or thereabouts, archeologists may be uncovering the rostrum of the United Nations Assembly hall in a place variously known as New York City and New Amsterdam and wondering what went on there.

What will they make of it? What will they make of Yankee Stadium, Soldiers Field in Chicago, the Los Angeles Coliseum?

What will they think of those statues in the Capitol in Washington, the strange substances which presumably are going to be preserved forever in home freezers, the Christmas presentation bottles in which strong liquor was passed from hand to hand in 1953, the lighters which still won't work as well as matches, the stainless steel decor of filling stations?

In the interest of minimizing confusion maybe we'd better get rid of all this stuff before it gets covered up.

Frankly we don't believe the archeologists of the future will be able to figure it out. They'll be jumping to the conclusion that we must have been as wacky as we actually are.

Warnings Meaningless

By David Lawrence

Gravity of Indochina Crisis Glossed Over

The American people are not being given all the facts concerning the grave situation that has arisen in Indochina.

Officials here are not only minimizing what is happening there but they are issuing warnings to the Communists about a possible retaliatory action which has no sanction from the United Nations or from the 16 nations which fought against the Reds in Korea.

The Associated Press carried on the night of December 29 these three statments which were front-paged on many of the newspapers from coast to coast:

"Secretary of State Dulles warned today American air and naval power might strike at the China mainland if Chinese troops openly intervene in Indochina or resume the war in Korea. . .

"Dulles' remarks reinforced a similar warning he issued in a speech at the American Legion convention in St. Louis last Sept. 2. . .

"In recalling this warning today, Dulles said any renewal of hostilities in Korea or a Chinese Communist attack in Indochina would bring an American reaction 'not necessarily confined to the particular area the Communists choose to make the theater of their new aggression'."

THE FOREGOING statements would be meaningful were it not for the fact that after the 16 nations had issued on August 7 their declaration of July 27 saying they would resume hostilities if the Korean truce were broken and warning the Reds that they would have to carry the war to China itself if the Communists broke the armistice, a clamor rose in Britain and on August 8 the United Press sent this dispatch from London:

"A foreign office spokesman said tonight that, in Britain's opinion, the United Nations threat to carry the war to the enemy if the Korean truce is violated doesn't imply any advance commitments to any precise course of action."

The Foreign Office statement was quoted at the same time as saying: "When the text of the declaration was under discussion, Her Majesty's government was careful to make it clear that, in their view, decisions which might have grave consequences should be taken only at the time and in full knowledge of the circumstances."

This, of course, was read in Moscow, too, where it doubtless is being assumed that Secretary Dulles can issue all the threats and warnings he pleases, but the British government is still not committed to agrement or cooperation in any military sense.

IT MIGHT BE inferred perhaps that the United States planned to "go it alone" in the Asian crisis, but this hardly seems plausible. Also Dulles not long ago said the United States would not attempt to dictate or coerce its allies.

It is evident, on the other hand, that the British government is doing the dictating to America on Asian policy.

So far as the public knows, either from official statments in Washington or from the revelations in the debates in the House of Commons, Britain hasn't the slightest intention of carrying the war to the Chinese mainland or of checkmating by any new military operations there what is happening in Indochina.

Coincidentally, Dulles is reported by the Associated Press to have said at his news conference on Tuesday of this week that American power to strike devastating blows at any aggressor in the Far East is strengthened despite the projected withdrawal of the two U.S. divisions from Korea, and he added that, instead of trying to meet any new agression "merely by land power of our own in Asia, there would be more reliance on '(American) sea and air power, which would give us a greater choice."

THE PLAIN meaning intended to be conveyed by the foregoing comment is that the American forces are free to use sea and air power at will in Asia, when the actual fact is that the allied governments, which have exercised since the autumn of 1950 their veto over any "hot pursuit" by our air forces against enemy planes to bases beyond the Yalu River in Manchuria, have never withdrawn that veto.

Any warnings issued now, therefore, are predicted on the assumption that in a forthcoming crisis the Europeans will drop their cries about "enlarging the war" or "bringing on World War III" and will agree to milltary operations against the mainland of China.

There is no backing for that assumption so far as can be learned from any official or unofficial pronouncements here or abroad.

Dear Nephew: Like everybody else, I wince when the little mongrels snap and snarl. I want to kick them in their little teeth or their little posteriors, whichever is handier.

I felt better about them yesterday after I read what Sir Winston Churchill had to say on this subject when he was telling Parliament how an international conference should be conducted.

One of these ideas stressed the importance of patience. The old man is too wise at his age to believe great results can be accomplished with slap-dash methods.

"Success will in all cases be best measured by easement rather than by headlines," he observed. "I expect I shall be somewhat scolded for saying these things but in old age popularity does not seem to be as imortant as in the days of youth, while on the other hand a little abuse on occasions may prove a necessary and invigorating stimulus."

It makes a difference to know that when the mongrels snap and snarl at Mr. England from now on he will be watching them in amused tolerance. His place in history is secure. He can afford to be unpopular.

As we close the books on another year, we could use some more Churchills — men who have lost the desire to be popular if it clashes with what they believe to be right. My idea of the way men are governed best is to have a few leaders among them who are courageous enough to stand on their principles come hell or high water.

The rest of us can then choose to stand with the men whom we admire the most. When it works that way, we have the privilege of decision. But mostly it works in reverse.

The "leaders" who should be standing on principles come hell or high water are scurrying to safety. They intend to stay there until they see how things turn out. They want the people to stand up and be counted so their "leaders" will know what to believe.

Maybe we're lucky to have one Churchill in a generation and shouldn't complain if he isn't quintuplets.

Your kindly old Aunt Effie has been complaining about me. She says I am underfoot and will be glad when I quit celebrating the holidays. She has something there, though I won't admit it. I'll be glad too.

I haven't lifted a finger for any constructive purpose since two weeks before Christmas. I have spread good cheer until I'm in it up to my knees.

Your Aunt Effie says she is sick of it and can hardly wait until I have been restored to my usual sour self, with a little gleam of sunshine thrown in for comic relief. She says she is sick of Christmas — and I guess most of us are. It's nothing to be ashamed of. I used to get sick of Independence Day when it was celebrated with explosives instead of the crunch of auto accidents.

If you're interested, I predict 1954 will have 365 days and some will be better than others. Am I wrong about this, or are some of our politicians predicting a depression in the hope of talking one up so they can fish in troubled waters. Has politics become that scummy?

Gouzenko Baffles Canada, U.S.

By Edward K. Nellor

WASHINGTON

It may take a battery of psychiatrists to unravel the strange case of Igor Gouzenko, but so far as the Canadian government is concerned the former Soviet code clerk who deserted the Russians is an international bundle of trouble.

This was spelled out in great detail in the monthly bulletin of the Department of External Affairs in Canada, which reprinted verbatim the remarks of Canadian Secretary of State Lester Pearson in an address before the parliament in Ottawa.

Much that Pearson had to say on the troublesome Gouzenko case —which has bounced across the border between the two countries in newspaper headlines for weeks and is still vibrating—was never fully reported in the U. S.

THE STORY HAS to begin with Gouzenko, an employe of the Soviet embassy in Canada who was on the staff of a Col. Zabotin, the Russian military attache in Ottawa. On the night of Sept. 5, 1945, a shaking, pleading Gouzenko fled from the Soviet embassy, clutching in his overcoat pocket a bundle of coded Russian espionage messages that were destined to explode around the world when deciphered.

For one year, hiding in fear and under an assassin-tight security blanket of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Gouzenko related his story to Canadian authorities. Then he was whisked into hiding on a farm, given a new name, a new background and provided with 24-hour-a-day security guards for himself and family.

For six years the frightened Gouzenko remained in hiding, content with his official sanctuary, causing no trouble to a grateful Canadian government. He could have remained the anonymous Mr. Nobody for the remainder of his life.

BUT GOUZENKO chose to explode across the front pages of two nations. He did so of his own volition, to the complete distaste of the government that shelters him.

From his own statements, from official Canadian reports and from U. S. security agency officials willing to talk off the record on the pecularities of the Gouzenko phenomena, NANA has attempted to find out why this minor Soviet civil servant is now insistent on a major role in the worldwide conflict with communism.

That Gouzenko is a puzzle to our Canadian neighbors is admitted by Canadian officials themselves. In fact, his behavior prompted the Canadian secretary of state to say on one occasion that "Mr. Gouzenko has been given the rights of Canadian citizenship; he is, therefore, at liberty at any time to discuss any question that he may wish with anyone either in Canada or the United States and either confidentially or otherwise."

BUT PEARSON and his government obviously meant no such thing, as later actions and statements proved. Gouzenko, in response to a request from a Senate committee, was granted the privilege of talking, but with the proviso that it be done in the presence of Canadian security officials, that what he had to say be censored and that in so doing he ran the risk of losing his secret identity and his police protection.

In fact, the Canadian secretary of state, in referring to a previous occasion when Gouzenko was allowed to talk to American officials, stated, "I have looked at the evidence again recently, and the questions at this inquiry were not limited to the specific subjects for which the interview had been requested. Of course, we are making no complaint about this."

Later in the same speech Pearson was caustic in his reference to a U. S. newspaper, which Canadian officials blame for stirring up the current Gouzenko fracas.

"Members of the House will, I think, recall that in October a newspaper which modestly calls itself the world's greatest newspaper, The Chicago Tribune—about that there might, of course, be some difference of opinion—reported an interview with Mr. Gouzenko in which he expressed an interest in talking to a committee of the U. S. Congress."

FROM ALL evidence at hand, however, it is Gouzenko, not a newspaper or a committee of Congress, who is anxious to elaborate on his story.

Gouzenko, from a badly-scared, Russian-speaking captive of communism, had grown into an intense voluble author and speaker, who is fighting the chains that bind him to Canadian security.

He flouts the Canadian press and many Canadian officials by writing notes to U. S. newspapermen and magazine editors. He stings them worse by referring to Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R., Wis.) in kindly terms, a razor-raw subject in Canada.

Gouzenko has a book due for publication early this spring. Also, he has hired a Canadian press adviser—a Toronto newspaperman, according to Washington reports—which may help, but not explain fully, his sudden burgeoning at this time.

HE IS A MAN bristling with opinions, impatient with his guards, and inclined to be emotional when discussing Canadian government officials. Whatever it is that seems to be chewing at his vitals, this much is certain: Gouzenko wants to talk.

He still wishes to hide his face, however; keep his children in ignorance of his true identity and continue with his camouflaged life.

Barred from speaking out to members of the American Congress or their staff aides, Gouzenko posted a letter to the editor of U. S. News and World Report in Washington, inviting reporters to his hide-out. He grants interviews to dozens of newspapermen, picking and choosing the subject to be discussed and carefully editing what he has to say before releasing it for publication.

CANADIAN OFFICIALS maintain he has nothing new to say on espionage that has not already been transmitted to U. S. officials. Gouzenko is a switch hitter on the subject—once, stating he knew a good deal he had not told and, on another occasion, backtracking on the subject.

Frustration? Egomania? Boredom? Or a God-fearing determination to renew his fight against communism?

Take your pick. That is what security officials in Washington, who knew Gouzenko in 1945 and follow his gyrations today, are doing.

Slashes Along the Way

By MARK DANA

Off to a head start with the plan to bring two divisions of U. S. troops home from Korea, the talk of manpower reduction in all the armed forces is gaining headway. It all goes back to the President's announcement a few weeks ago that personnel as well as other defense costs would be cut.

Since the present administration took over last January, defense personnel have been reduced by 51,000, until now there are only 3,455,954 men and women in uniform, thus: Army, 1,502,552; Navy, 778,057; Marine Corps, 251,770; Air Force, 923,575.

The Air Force is sending 10,662 persons, uniformed and civilian, home from Europe and North Africa, largely to save money, partly to give the jobs of some of these to natives. A bit more spectacular than this move, expected to save $15 million in wages alone per year, is the Army's plan to discharge 20,000 persons of low I.Q. Last fall, 15,000 "professional" privates" who did not have sufficient intelligence or ambition to become non-coms, were weeded out. The Navy meanwhile has begun to screen applicants for enlistment more severely, wanting nobody who is not potential petty officer material.

These reduction and tightening-up steps will provide political capital for the coming Congress session for those who want the draft program greatly cut, and some tall battles can be expected in Washington from now on between proponents of maximum national defense and those seeking economy and easing the draft.

Probably there will be much hysteria by both sides, yet there can be no final action by anybody on defense strength reduction on a permanent basis until there is ample assurace that the Korean shooting war will not break out; until all the Allied concerns throughout the Orient and South Pacific are wrapped up securely; until there is full certainty that Soviet Russia will behave. Pending such a serene period, juggling economy versus security is bound to have an interim tone.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Speech in an Hour of Crisis

(After the fashion of "Change the Name of Arkansas!")

"Grover Whalen out as the head man in all welcomes to Gotham! By thunder, no! Grover Whalen removed as the most famous best-dressed, best-looking official glad-hander in America! Over my dead body, sir! Grover Whalen no longer going down the bay to welcome doers of great deeds, leading the parade up Broadway, lending color to the welcome at City Hall and seeing that every oyster fork is in place at the banquet! Gentlemen, this is mutiny!

Change the mayor of New York, alter the face of lower Broadway, switch the location of the Waldorf-Astoria, do away with brass bands, drum majors and motorcycle escorts, but cut down Grover Whalen and his gardenia? Never!

Gentlemen, this is sacrilege. This is treason! You may wipe out Coney Island, efface Central Park, bid the Bronx Zoo begone, order Toots Shor to head a drive for the WCTU, swap Grant's Tomb for the headstone of P.T. Barnum, close the shuttle, remove Alfred Drake from "Kismet" in favor of Jimmy Savo, require Boris Karloff to play Santa Claus in Macy's window, and transfer the Chrysler Tower to Hialeah Park in exchange for a flock of pink flamingoes, but fire the man who is as much a part of New York as General Sherman's horse, Sophie Tucker, the flea circus, "Variety," Bedloe's Island and Herbert Bayard Swope! Not if there is a drop of red blood left in the arteries of the citizenry!

Grover Whalen was the famous institution pointed out to millions when they first set foot on the shores of Manhattan. Charlie Schwab's castle on Riverside Drive, the old Polo Grounds, Castle Garden where Jenny Lind sang, the Hippodrome, George M. Cohan, Al Smith and "Abie's Irish Rose" weren't even close. Bob Moses was considered away up town. The circus was playing the old Madison Square Garden down near Twenty-fifth Street, Raymond Hitchcock was playing at the Ziegfeld and they were serving huge slices of roast beef with the free lunch at the Knickerbocker.

Gentlemen, Grover Whalen was here before "The Ladder," "Peaches" Browning, "Tillie's Punctured Romance," sulpha drugs, king-size cigarettes and Walter Winchell.

He was the first to greet Gertrude Ederle, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Bobby Jones and Slim Lindbergh down the bay.

He threw a parade for Admiral Dewey and a party for Daniel Boone! To remove him from the scene is a foul crime. I say to you that you can change the course of the Hudson River, make Broadway a side street, tear the schnozzle from the classic face of Jimmy Durante, name Jack Dempsey curator of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and take Mike Quill away from microphones!

But touch a hair of Grover Whalen's head! Veto his gardenia! Turn thumbs down on his sartorial splendor! Never! This is unconstitutional! This is injustice! This can even be a Kremlin plot! Citizens, arise! Revolt!

Today's successor to the man who had the first telephone and the first big red horseless carriage is the fellow with a color TV set.

We wish somebody would break into the "Omnibus" program and make off with a load of whimsy. The supply is too great.

The youth who killed his own parents, and his accomplice are in the hands of psychiatrists. It probably will be found that the little dears were driven to it by the fact their parents once spoke to them sharply, twice refused them larger rattles as babies and frequently refused to obey the kids' orders.

Armistice Misused

U.S. Commander Says Truce Broken

By RAY FALK

TOKYO (NANA) — The Communists have violated Korean armistice terms, General Otto P. Weyland, Far East Air Force commander, said today.

"The enemy was not operating high performance combat aircraft from North Korean bases at the time of the armistice," the general said. "Our radar discloses that the Communists are now operating substantial numbers of jet aircraft from those bases.

"I am personally convinced that additional aircraft have been introduced into North Korea since the armistice. The Communists, of course, have not admitted such action."

Under the terms of the armistice, both sides are prevented from increasing their military strength in Korea.

Asked what measures the U. S. Air Force is taking to cope with this increased Red air strength and to prepare for a surprise Communist air attack, General Weyland declared:

"The Fifth Air Force in Korea relies basically on electronic surveillance for early warning of approaching aircraft. Our tactical air control network affords additional means of warning through radio and land line transmission of reports on hostile aircraft from front line positions to the joint operations center.

"Passive measures of defense against surprise attack are elaborate and carefully planned. On our forward air bases, our interceptors are dispersed and well revetted. Behind them the remainder of the Fifth Air Force is echeloned to depth. Other components of the Far East Air Forces back up the Fifth Air Force.

"Our units are habitually held in a state of alert and readiness. If the Communists attempt a surprise air attack on our forces in violation of the armistice, we are prepared to roll with the punch, and to mount retaliatory attacks on a moment's notice."

General Weyland admitted that some American air units had been withdrawn from Korea since the armistice was signed July 27. He said this was done to decrease the concentrations of aircraft which are always vulnerable to surprise attack. But, he added, these forces are immediately available in the event hostilities should be renewed.

In the meanwhile, the South Korean Air forces is being built up. It is not yet in balance with the ROK army. The four-star general said. "They have a number of combat experienced fighter-bomber squadrons equipped with F-51s and backed up by a solid training establishment. (F-51s are propeller-driven planes.) They have personnel in sufficient numbers and aptitude to develop a well balanced modern jet air force of adequate size for their own air defense and support of their own surface forces."

The FEAF commander "assumes that if the truce is broken by the enemy he could bomb Manchuria. As he put it "if the truce were broken by the enemy it should be assumed that we would be reinforced and that the operational limitations placed on UNC air power in the past, including the Yalu River line, would be removed."

The general did not say what other "operational limitations" besides the Yalu River line, he had in mind.

REVIVES SON. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cox sit at the bedside of their 3-year-old son, Johnny, whom Cox revived after fishing the child from a hole in the ice of frozen Lake Chaweva, near Charleston, W. Va. The father, searching after Johnny failed to come to dinner, spotted the child unconscious in the water beneath a hole in the ice. Johnny apparently had either broken through while walking or fallen off a boat dock.

Foundation Head Reports Big Drive On Polio Planned

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is to begin an all-out drive on the disease next month.

Foundation President Basil O'Connor in a nationwide broadcast inaugurating the 1954 March of Dimes campaign last night, said thousands of children in Pittsburgh, Pa., would be inoculated with a new polio vaccine.

Inoculations in February are to cover "every state in the nation" as part of the program.

O'Connor said the program would cost 75 million dollars but that the development of the serum brought the fight against polio to "the verge of victory."

The serum is to be tested on between 500,000 and one million second grade school children.

33 Courses Will Be Available In New Adult Education Classes

Marion's Adult Education program will resume in January following a three-day registration period Jan. 6, 7, and 8. One of the main courses to be offered is the course for the stationary firemen and engineer.

In two sections, one for beginners, and the other for licensed operators, the course is to be offered each Tuesday and Thursday evening.

The beginners course is offered in the fundamentals required for the passage of the state examination. The advanced course is designed to serve as a refresher course for licensed operators, to acquaint them with modern heating methods, and to refresh their memories on practices already learned. It is also designed to help a licensed person obtain a higher degree license.

This course is one of 33 offered for adults at Harding High School. Regular classes begin at 7 p.m. and last until 10 p.m. Classes scheduled for Tuesdays will start on Jan. 19, while those slated to be taught Thursdays will begin on Jan. 21.

Some of the other course offered this year are in English, electricity, biology, fine arts, automotives, bookkeeping, cooking, round and square dancing, first aid, handicraft, photography, sewing, shorthand, speech, Spanish, typing, woodworking, and drama.

Most courses cost five dollars for the complete set of lessons. Fees on some courses, though, vary according to the subject. No charge is made for courses in standard and advanced first aid or in home nursing.

Most classes will meet for a 10-week period. The courses in basic electricity will consume a total of 60 hours and will meet twice each week.

In the fireman and engineer course, visits will be made to various plants in the area to get a first-hand view of the operation of modern equipment. Instructor for the course will be Herman Powelson, supervising custodian at Harding High School.

Strange Creatures Hunted in Malaya

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Police jungle squads in Perak State switched today from hunting Communist guerrillas to search for three hairy manlike creatures with fang-like teeth and wearing loincloths.

The three appeared for the first time on a rubber estate at Trolak and terrified Chinese and Malay workers who were tapping trees.

But G. M. Browne, manager of the estate, said the strange visitors did not appear unfriendly.

He discounted suggestions that they were Communist guerrillas in disguise or former Japanese soldiers who had been in the jungle for eight or nine years.

"The fang-like teeth is one point against either theory," he said.

The word "cash" first meant box, then readily available money in a box and finally any readily available money.

Reflections on Problems Time Brings

Timely Quotes Help Launch New Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"A Happy New Year!"

This fine old greeting will be said billions of times today. Some will bellow it merrily; some will whisper it through the filter of the dark brown taste of the morning after the night before; some will mumble it with the professional solemnity of a hired pallbearer at a cut-rate funeral.

"A Happy New Year!"

The words have a leaping sound to some, a doleful significance to others. For many a man now is caught in a valley of despondency—the peak of Christmas joy is behind him, and before him he sees a new year mountain of bills and duties and doubts. "How will I ever make it through this one," he groans, thinking of his past mistakes. And whenever a friend says "Happy New Year!" he feels more like breaking out in tears than cheers.

How can such a wight be comforted in his woe? Well? How better than by reading what some wise men of the past have said on the subject of time and the problems it brings?

get you down, here are a few famous sayings to paste in your heart and head and help you weather this difficult time:

"I will not let the years run over me like a juggernaut car"—Thoreau.

"Years have hardier tasks than listening to a whisper or a sigh"—Stephen Vincent Benet.

"From each of us each passing year takes something"—Horace.

"All sorts of things and weather must be taken in together, to make up a year"—Emerson.

"We spend our years as a tale that is told"—Old Testament.

"A thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night"—Old Testament.

"In masks outrageous and austere.

"The years go by in single file;

"But none has merited my fear.

"And none has quite escaped my smile"—Elinor Wylie.

"The good old year is with the past, O be the new as kind!"—Bryant.

"New Year comes but once a twelvemonth"—W. E. Henley.

"Yesterday's errors let yesterday cover"—Sarah C. Woolsey.

"Ring out the old, ring in the new"—Tennyson.

"A man should never be ashamed to own he has been in the wrong, which is but saying in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday"—Swift.

"Never tell your resolution beforehand"—John Selden.

"Be as a tower, that, firmly set, shakes not its top for any blast that blows"—Dante.

"Resolve, and thou art free"—Longfellow.

"There is no such thing in man's nature as a settled and full resolve either for good or evil, except at the very moment of execution"—Hawthorne.

"Hast thou attempted greatness? Then go on; back-turning slackens resolution"—Robert Herrick.

"The road to resolution lies by doubt"—Francis Quarles.

"Childhood may do without a grand purpose, but manhood can't"—J. G. Holland.

"When a man does not know what harbor he is making for, no wind is the right wind"—Seneca.

"All things are what you make them"—Plautus.

Dodge Reports Ohio's Building At New Record

New construction projects in Ohio through November continued to push the state's 1953 total toward an all-time high for valuation of building starts.

The F. W. Dodge Corp., construction and marketing news specialists reported today the total this year reached $2,084,462,000 at the end of November, well ahead of the 1952 final tally of $1,075,575,000.

Carl S. Bennett, regional vice president at Cleveland said the individual 11-month totals were: non-residential, $1,094,429,000, up 211 per cent over last year; residential, $530,546,000 up 14 per cent; heavy engineering, $459,487,000, up 218 per cent.

For November the totals were: non-residential, $83,327,000, down 51 per cent from October but up 135 per cent over Nov., 1952; residential, $34,558,000, down 30 per cent from October and down 14 per cent from last Nov.; and heavy engineering, $56,571,000, up 10 per cent over October and up substantially over last Nov.

Building Permits

Two building permits were issued at the Marion City Clerk's office during the week from Dec. 24 through 31. Total valuation for the proposed construction projects was $10,500. This was considerably less than for the previous week when one permit for construction of seven new houses with total valuation of $44,500 was issued.

New Construction:

Marlow Fiant, 272 Forest Lawn Blvd., home, $10,000.

Improvements:

Richard and Mary Jane Garver, 330 Carner Ave., remodel porch, $500.

Marion County Shifted To Cleveland Air Area

Marion County has been included in the Cleveland district of the Air Procurement Service, it was announced today by Col. F. E. Hoffman, chief of the Cleveland office.

In a realignment of territorial boundaries, Marion and Morrow Counties were among six counties in the state to be switched into the Cleveland district for the manufacture and supply of Air Force equipment.

The Cleveland office is responsible for the administration of contracts held by the Air Force in its territory. This includes supervision of quality control, industrial property, production, and security.

Now included in the Cleveland area are Marion, Morrow, Knox, Muskingham, Noble, and Monroe Counties, as well as the following counties in West Virginia: Marshall, Ohio, Brooke, and Hancock.

English countrymen formerly believed that stone axes chipped by primitive men and found on their farms fell there in the form of thunderbolts.

EDWARD L. KNIGHT

Veterans To Hear Address by State Leader for DAV

A meeting, open to all veterans, will be held Tuesday night in the Veterans' Home, S. Main St., it was announced today by Lewis E. Craig, commander of Marion Chapter, Disabled American Veterans.

Speaker for the meeting will be Edward L. Knight of Lebanon, commander of the Ohio DAV Chapter. The meeting is being sponsored by the local chapter.

His talk will deal with the effort now being made to reduce the appropriation for hospitalization and other benefits for war veterans. In addition to the talk the state officer will confer with veterans on questions pertaining to individual claims following the meeting. A special invitation has been extended to women to attend the meeting which will be held at 8:15 p.m.

The commander who suffered the loss of a leg as the result of his services with the U. S. Marines durig nWorld War I, has been an outstanding leader among the wars' disabled of the state for a number of years.

The DAV, organized in 1920, is composed exclusively of veterans who have served during the time of war and were wounded, gassed or disabled in any way as a direct result of service. It is the only organization of its kind ever to receive a charter from the Congress of the United States. National Service Officers are maintained at all offices of the Veterans Administration and federal hospitals in the state to assist veterans with the preparation and prosecution of claims on war-incurred disabilities.

Saving of $2,000,000

Benson Pushes Plans To Change Department

By EDWARD K. NELLOR
North American Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON — Despite cries of havoc from opponents, President Eisenhower's Agriculture Department reorganization plan is working well and headed for a potential saving of at least $2,000,000 annually, just from a few minor changes, the Hoover Commission reported here today.

Over-all savings when the entire reorganization plan is completed will run into the multimillions, although no official estimate was made by the presidential group.

OFFICIALLY IN OPERATION since November 2, the juggling of Agriculture's 82,000 employes and its $1,000,000,000 annual budget has resulted in the following, from an actual cash-saving standpoint:

1. County and state committeemen have been placed on a "paid when they work" basis, saving $625,000.

2. Two useless commodity offices were closed, saving $559,000.

3. One agency was consolidated entirely under one man, saving $325,000 annually.

4. Elimination of several small field offices, saving $260,000.

Some farm-state critics of the plan predicted the ruination of the department when the Presiden asked Congress to approve the reorganization.

The Hoover Commission, however, says the department's efficiency has been improved instead, with four instead of 20 different bureaus now reporting to the Secretary of Agriculture.

The four are, research, extension and land use; agricultural credit; commodity marketing and adjustment; and foreign agricultural service.

Actually the Hoover report, completed in 1950 but largely ignored until 1953, was used as a backdrop for two other department study groups, who finally agreed on a reorganization plan. One was appointed by Secretary of Agricultural Ezra Taft Benson and dealt with farm organizations. The other was appointed by President Eisenhower and is known as the Temple University task force.

IN ADDITION TO THE CASH savings anticipated, nine agencies of the department were ordered to overhaul their accounting systems; 32 property management service agencies were overhauled; a new plan of recruiting employes from land-grant colleges has been instituted and large savings in basic budget spending will be forthcoming by using private facilities for research instead of buying and installing equipment for the job.

There are 16 Hoover commission proposals for improving the department. Five have been accomplished; six are partly complete, and nothing has been done to implement the other five.

Congress has retained the power to eliminate Agriculture Department agencies and forbids the secretary to shift unexpended funds from one agency to another. Otherwise, according to the estimates of the study just completed:

"The secretary has been given the power to proceed (with the reorganization). Full responsibility has been place on his shoulders, where it rightfully belongs, for under our democratic form of government he is fully accountable for his actions to the Congress, and to the people of the United States."

BENSON HAS INDICATED his intentions of completing the undone reorganization proposals. He says, in addition to the multimillion-dollar savings, the farm program will be returned to the farmer at the local level, instead of resting in the hands of Washington officials when the reorganization is complete.

The report is the first to contain detailed saving and efficiency accomplishments for any of the major agencies since the President took office.

Earth Tremor Causes Alarm In Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A minor earth tremor jarred homes and sent residents scurrying to telephones in mountainous regions of three states last night. No injuries or property damage were reported.

Extent and origin of the shock had not been determined early today.

The disturbance apparently began at 9:25 p. m., EST, and continued several minutes. It was felt from Middlesboro, Ky., about 5 miles north of here to Asheville, N. C., about 100 miles to the southeast.

Newspapers, radio station and police switchboards were jammed by telephone calls.

Many feared there had been an atomic explosion at Atomic Energy Commission installations in nearby Oak Ridge, but AEC officials said they felt no tremor and had no idea as to its origin.

Wagner Denies He Made 'Deal' With Ex-Mayor

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri will be sworn in today as justice of the Court of Special Sessions amid speculation that he made a "deal" with his bitter political foe, the new mayor, Robert F. Wagner Jr.

After his formal inauguration yesterday as mayor, Wagner said there was "no deal" in connection with his appointment of Impellitteri to the $19,500-a-year post. Wagner said he promised the job to his predecessor upon the urging of the City Board of Estimate.

But observers have pointed out Impellitteri's last-minute appointments of two men who opposed him in last fall's political campaign. He gave a $15,000-a-year lifetime job as water supply commissioner to Herbert M. Rosenberg former special U.S. attorney who is a strong backer of Tammany Hall leader Carine G. De Sapio, who opposed Impellitteri. And a Domestic Relations judgeship went to Wilfred A. Waltemade, assistant Bronx County district attorney.

Wagner's assertion that the Board of Estimate urged him to give Impellitteri a job had the backing of City Council President Rudolph Halley, who ran for mayor on the Liberal party ticket.

Halley said yesterday that Impellitteri "has served the city to the best of his ability" and "deserves the opportunity to complete his city service and get his full pension."

Two more years in city service will entitle Impellitteri to an annual $20,000 pension.

Godfrey Troupe Back From Greenland Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey and his troupe, and a party including Air Secretary Harold Talbott and Gen. Curtis LeMay, returned yesterday by plane after a New Year's Eve spent at Thule Air Force Base in Greenland.

The group, which also included Mrs. Talbott, Mrs. Godfrey, and publisher William Randolph Hearst Jr., flew to the "loneliest air force base in the world" on Wednesday.

"It was a wonderful trip," Talbott said. "It was a wise thing from a morale standpoint and the men were pleased and diverted."

The boy vanished Wednesday at about the same time as a schoolmate, Jacqueline Kastner, also 15.

Total of U.S. War Dead In Korea Near 30,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 3,600 American soldiers and airmen missing in Korea for over a year now are officially listed as dead. The Army and Air Force so informed their next-of-kin by wire yesterday.

Thus, the toll of battle deaths in the Korean War has been raised to nearly 30,000.

The Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps still must make final disposition of over 3,800 cases of men now regarded as missing in action.

Deaths and Funerals

Harry G. McVey

Harry G. McVey, 74, of 586 E Center St. died Friday afternoon at his home. When he failed to waken from a nap and his wife discovered he was not breathing properly she called the inhalator squad of Central fire station, about 2:23 p.m. In an attempt to revive him, the resuscitator apparatus was used 15 minutes to no avail.

Born March 31, 1879, in Cardington, Mr. McVey was the son of Wylie P. and Esther Foust McVey of near Delaware. May 7,1928, in Akron, he married Emma Fink. A resident of Marion since 1912, he came here from Galion when the Erie Railroad terminal was moved to Marion. Beginning work for the railroad as a fireman in 1899, he was promoted to engineer in 1904 and retired in 1938 after 39 years and four months of service with the road. He was a member of Division 16, B. of L.E.

Surviving are his widow, and sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Church of Los Angeles, Calif., and Miss Clessa McVey of Galion.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. in the Shaffner-Denzer Funeral Home on E. Center St. Rev. M. E. Hollensen will officiate. Burial will be in Glendale Cemetery at Cardington. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

John W. Richards

John W. (Bindley) Richards, 50 of 567 Avondale Ave. was stricken shortly before 3 a.m. today, at home and the inhalator squad from Central Fire Station operated the resuscitator apparatus 10 minutes in an unavailing attempt to revive him. A physician who was called pronounced cause of death heart attack.

Born March 6, 1903, in Espyville, Mr. Richards was the son of John W. and Mary Francis Miller Richards, natives of Pickaway County. Feb. 9, 1924, in Monroe, Mich., he married Bernice Elliott. A resident of Marion since 1916, he came here from Espyville. He was an engineer for the C & O Railroad, employed by the road 30 years, and was a member of B. of R. T.

Surviving are his widow, and his son, Earl W. Richards of Veterans Housing area, his granddaughter, Cheryl Lee Richards, and sisters, Mrs. Howard Smith of 806 Merkel Ave. and Mrs. L. J. Malone of 743 Silver S.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. in the M. H. Gunder and Sons Funeral Home on W. Center St. Rev. Melvin Truex of First Church of Christ in Christian Union and Rev. John C. Woodward of First Wesleyan Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

Stock Market Ends Year With Flareup in Trading

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ended the old year with a flare-up in trading and a solid demonstration of basic strength.

The market on average was lower for the second straight week and it ended the year with the first net loss in five years.

Nevertheless, there was no indications that the recovery movement that started from the mid-September low of the year was in danger of being clipped off.

Throughout the week there were plenty of excuses offered for selling. These ranged all the way from forecasts of business recession to technical conditions within the market itself.

Reports showed that unemployment was mounting. The total was relatively small, but the figure was rising.

Industrial production dropped off and the Federal Reserve Board reported its industrial production index in November was below a year ago for the first time.

And from many economists there were predictions that the United States faced a recession. The degree of the severity of the recession—or whether it should be called a recession—was debated.

The market opened the week with the prospect of tax selling. It proved to be somewhat heavier than expected, and the market declined moderately on Monday.

Selling got going with increased vigor on Tuesday and pressed average prices down still more. Volume crossed the two million mark for the first time since mid-September.

During the day the market fell below a critical average price level. The technicians felt that if scant buying support developed at that point, the market might be in for some severe pressures. Well, buying support did develop, and the market snapped back from its low and managed to regain a considerable portion of its loss before the close.

That demonstration so heartened the constructive forces in Wall Street that a substantial gain was turned in on Wednesday, the second day for trading past the two million level.

Thursday, the final day of the year, brought out all of the trading that had to be done in order to get it on the record for the old year. Prices were higher at the start, in line with the good tone of the previous day, and then they gradually dwindled.

Just before the close there was a great rush of selling that swamped the tape and forced it two minutes behind in reporting actual transactions. Volume mounted to nearly 2½ millian shares.

Prices were maintained steadfastly in the face of the huge offerings, and the market actually closed unchanged on average with an almost even balance of gains and losses. That, to the Wall Street mind, constituted a gratifying display of strength.

On the week The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 50 cents at $108.10, a level that was 6.6 per cent under the closing figure of the previous year.

Columbus Dry Goods Firm Hit By Major Fire

Six-Story Downtown Building Destroyed, Two Firemen Injured

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fire inspectors searched the smoking ruins of a six-story downtown commercial building today in an attempt to determine the cause of the capital city's biggest fire in recent years.

The blaze destroyed the McClure-Tritschler-Parrish Co., a wholesale dry goods firm, and forced evacuation of the nearby Reid Hotel, from which 30 guests fled into the chilled New Year's night air.

Two firemen were injured, neither seriously. Firefighter Martin W. Shields, 30, suffered an injured left knee; Lt. Verdell Green, 47, injured his hand.

The flames, fed from a broken gas line, raged out of control for several hours, attracting an estimated 15,000 persons to the area, just three blocks from the heart of the city. Fiery embers and sparks endangered some of the spectators and the intense heat forced others to retreat from their positions a block away.

Within an hour after the general alarm fire was discovered all the floors of the structure had collapsed. In another hour two of the walls followed.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage, but company officials said the building and its contents—dry goods, men's haberdashery and women's clothes—were insured.

A heavy pall of smoke hung over the downtown area early this morning, as firemen began their clean-up operation. They had been hampered in their attempts to bring the blaze under control by the curious crowds. Buses of the Columbus Transit Co. were tied up for hours before they could be re-routed.

Galion Chamber of Commerce Secretary Has an Unusual Post

MRS. DOROTHY ROWLEY

GALION — There are only three women in the state of Ohio who hold the position of full-time executive secretary of a Chamber of Commerce, and Galion has one of them. The other two are at Salem and Girard.

Petite, with light brown hair and grayish-green eyes that twinkle with friendliness, Dorothy Rowley assumed the position of executive secretary a little over a year ago when the board of directors of Galion Chamber of Commerce selected her to fill a vacancy made by the resignation of William Gard.

She is the third person to fill this position in Galion's Chamber which was organized here in 1949. William Arnold was the first, preceding Gard.

"I just love my work and enjoy meeting people, because I always can learn something new from them," Mrs. Rowley said.

In regard to conducting the Chamber's business, Mrs. Rowley said, "We realize" (she was speaking for the officers) "that we cannot make everyone happy with the decisions we make, but we try to do the thing that we think would be best for all."

Mrs. Rowley also is Galion's official Hospitality Hostess. This is a position established by action of the merchants' division of the Chamber last January 15.

"I have made 65 calls on newcomers to Galion since last January," Mrs. Rowley said about her hospitality hostess duties. When given the name of a new family in Galion, Mrs. Rowley makes a call at the home, presents them with a folder containing a brochure of Galion, a map of the city, and gift certificates from Galion merchants who are affiliated with the Hospitality Hostess program and the Chamber. The Girl Scouts organization also has a folder with information for prospective members among the younger generation of newcomers.

"I've helped several new families find places to live, both in renting and buying property," Mrs. Rowley said about her hostess work.

Mrs. Rowley opens her office at 9 a.m. Before that time she has been up for three hours at her home in Crestline.

"I'm up at six o'clock," the secretary explains, "because I pack my husband's lunch before he goes to work at the Shelby depot." He is a civil service employe at the depot. The Rowleys live in Crestline because it makes commuting for both more convenient to live between the two towns where they work.

"I'm no marksman, because I don't have enough practice," Mrs. Rowley said when she told about going hunting with her husband. "I've shot rabbits and crows, and I enjoy target practice and trap shooting," she explained.

"We go fishing many times in the summer at Clear Fork, and sometimes at Lake Erie and other fishing spots where I was lucky in pulling in bass, croppers and blue gill," Mrs. Rowley said.

The board of directors sent her last summer to The National Institute School of Chamber of Commerce Executives at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. for a week's refresher course.

Mrs. Rowley had been working at Weber's Jewelry Store here for five years when she became secretary to William Gard on Jan. 2, 1952. He resigned as executive secretary on July 15, 1952, and Mrs. Rowley remained in the office. Two months later the board of directors named her to fill the vacancy made by Gard's resignation.

Meanwhile, in order to become more efficient in her new duties, Mrs. Rowley attended the Mansfield Business School for a refresher course. A native of Chicago, Mrs. Rowley was graduated from St. Gregory high school there. She has been in Ohio for the past eight years.

During the past year, Mrs. Rowley saw Galion get three new industries, Cemco Industries, Inc., the Galion Packaging and The Galion Plating companies.

She has the responsibility of getting out bulletins for the retail merchants, assists with Galion sales days work, helps with the Wednesday Sizzler and Silver Harvest days conducted by Galion merchants, and makes arrangements for the annual safety award banquet of the Galion Safety Council, a division of the Chamber. She is secretary-treasurer for this group, and works with the Industrial Commission of Ohio in this branch of service. There are monthly meetings to be arranged, as well as frequency ratings on accidents, reports and bulletins for the council.

The Chamber office also handles the part-time employement bureau for the Galion Trouble Clinic, a new and unique organization the part-time employment bur-

When Galion had its observance of Ohio's Sesquicentennial in connection with Galion's annual Mardi Gras celebration on Oct. 29, Mrs. Rowley was happy to meet the most distinguished visitor for the event, Ohio's Governor Frank J. Lausche.

Police Stop 13 During Heavy Flow of Traffic

Thirteen traffic arrests were recorded by city police over the New Year holiday. One of the 12 was on a charge of driving while intoxicated while another was on a charge of having physical control of a car while intoxicated.

Glenn M. Gray, 21, of 950 N. Main St. was charged with driving while intoxicated. He was stopped at 12:54 a.m. Friday on W. Center St. He posted a bond of $150 for his Monday appearance in court.

Ralph McCraig, 53, if Mt. Gilead was arrested and charged with physical control of a vehicle while intoxicated. He was being held today pending payment of bond.

Transit Firm Cuts City's Bus Service

New bus schedules, as approved by City Council at last Monday's meeting, went into effect this morning on Marion Transit Inc. lines.

Under the reduced schedules, service on the northeast and southwest loops was changed from 20-minute runs to 30-minute trips.

In addition, buses will run on the Mt. Vernon and Silver St. routes every hour instead of every 30 minutes. Center-Davids Sts. buses are on 30-minute service today because of the small number of stores open. On Monday, they will return to regular 20-minute service.

True Tale of Pilgrims Differs From Histories

By THOMAS R. HENRY

BOSTON — The real story of Plymouth Rock and the Pilgrims is a little different from that of the school histories.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science, devoted opening sessions of its 120th national meeting here this week to the Indians of Massasoit and Squanto to whose hospitality the little English colony owed its survival.

THE PILGRIMS HAD the good fortune, according to Dr. Maurice Robbins of the Massachusetts Archeological Society, to encounter about the most peaceful group of red men in North America. They were corn raisers and fishermen. For several years before the Plymouth landing these Indians had been raided periodically by hostile tribesmen out of the Maine forests who robbed them of their stored corn.

They were close to starvation. Then, in 1617 and 1618, a couple of years before the Plymouth settlement, they were struck in their weakened condition by a great epidemic, by which they were nearly exterminated. The nature of this virulent illness has never been determined.

SO THE PILGRIMS came to a land of abandoned villages and terrified people who were ready to welcome them as saviors, if they proved friendly. In the end it turned out that the situation was reversed. The Indians saved the white men, who could not possibly have survived the first winter without their help.

The friendship was short-lived, however, Dr. Robbins pointed out, because of the inevitable clash of white and Indian ways of life. Pilgrims and Puritans who followed the original settlers "bought" land—sometimes enormous quantities of it for a few trinkets. They assumed that they had bought it in good faith, as land would be bought in Europe, and had made wonderful bargains.

Actually no Indian or group of Indians in North America owned, or claimed ownership of, any land. They simply had agreed to let the white men hunt in the woods and when settlers began to build fences and kick out trespassers their behavior was incomprehensible to the Indians. The same trouble was encountered all over the continent for the next 250 years.

HAVING PURCHASED land the white men thought they could settle it under their own laws and began to treat the Indians on it as subjects and to arrest them and throw them in jail for tres passing.

This was an intolerable situation which forced even the ultra-peaceful Massachusetts red men to war.

Fortunately for the white men they had, meanwhile, put their colonies on solid foundations. Actually, in spite of their arquebuses, they were no match for the Indians in a brief engagement. But the red men had no concept of a prolonged war. In the end victory of the newcomers was certain.

Bonn Meeting Set by Allied Top Command

BONN, Germany (AP)—The three Allied high commissioners in Germany will meet here next week to select their representatives to negotiate with the Russians on a site for the Berlin foreign ministers conference.

The United States, Britain and France have accepted Russia's date of Jan. 25 for opening the conference. They also agreed to the Russian suggestion that representatives of the four high commissioners should discuss where it will be held in Berlin and other technical arrangements.

Allied officials said here today the four commandants — the high commisioners' deputies in Berlin —probably will handle these preliminary talks.

The final decision on this point for the Allied side will be made when U.S. High Commissioner James B. Conant, British High Commissioner Sir Frederick Hoyer Millar and French High Commissioner Andre Francois-Poncet meet in special conference here, probably next Tuesday or Wedesday.

Conant is due to return to Bonn Monday from a Christmas vacation in Florence, Italy. The date of the commissioners meeting will be set after his return.

Marion Student To Give Lecture-Recital Program

John Gantt, Marion student enrolled at Heidelberg College at Tiffin, will be guest soloist on the Lecture-Recital Club Twilight Musicale radio broadcast over Station WMRN Sunday at 3:45 p.m. Accompanist will be Robert Merchant from Bowling Green State University. He has been spending the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Gantt of 133 Reed Ave. The Sunday afternoon Lecture-Recital Club Twilight Musicale broadcasts are arranged by Mrs. Lewis Wills, radio and theater chairman of the club.

Batchelor

trasted with the extreme nervousness of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson of Big Stone Gap, Va., who was repatriated from the north camp Oct. 22.

Batchelor repeated his statement Friday that tender love letters from his Japanese wife, Kyoko, played a major role in his decision to return home. He said a growing suspicion of Communist motives finally persuaded him about a month ago to return.

Sunday morning the young corporal will fly to Tokyo for a final medical checkup and a meeting with his wife.

Writes Husband

The tiny Japanese woman wrote her husband Saturday that his decision to return home "was like a dream — a Christmas dream come true after three years."

Batchelor refused to answer many questions concerning conditions inside the camp.

He said he did not want to incriminate any of the men remaining, but it appeared that he might have been following the advice of U.S. Army officers who have talked with him for hours since his return to the U.N. Command Friday.

Batchelor explained how he gradually picked up Communist doctrines.

"There were all kinds of study groups and bull sessions," he said. "They gave us all kinds of literature on Marxism, Communist ideology, the class struggle, political economy and American aggression. Some of the books were by Stalin."

Lot of Reading

Batchelor said he did a lot of reading.

"My mind was confused. Not all the Communist propaganda is wrong. They use a bit of truth or they could never convert anyone.

"I never thought of myself as a Communist so much as a peace fighter—I wanted to fight against war and American aggression."

But Batchelor said he never believed Communist charges that Americans used germ warfare and he said he no longer believes in communism or that America is an aggressor.

Batchelor described himself as a leader of the American prisoners, but acknowledged that other POWs who talked with Indian officers at the gate failed to pass on information.

Hadn't Received Word

This included the news that Cpl. Dickenson had returned to his home town in the United States and married, he said.

"The Chinese told us he had been prosecuted," Batchelor said.

Batchelor told newsmen Saturday he was captured by Chinese Communists in November 1950. He said he was among 30 American infantrymen surrounded and without food on a North Korean hill.

In Kermit, Batchelor's parents planned a welcome home celebration for the son they have not seen for almost three years.

"I feel just like shouting," his mother said when she heard that he had asked to come home.

Only last week Mrs. Batchelor had said that only a miracle would bring her boy home.

"It's the answer to my prayers. I just thank God," she sighed.

been infected by rowdyism. On a recent excursion "the first cultural and educational demand of the (Communist) youth leaders was an energetic demand for vodka," one newspaper comments.

The juvenile gangs appear similar to those warring with authorities in some U.S. cities.

Newspapers make these complanits:

Gangs of young thugs attack "respectable people" on the streets of Warsaw and other cities in broad daylight. They enter state run stores and beat up the managers and assistants, apparently just for the fun of it.

Break Up Meetings

They assault police, turn Communist-organized dances into brawls and have such defiance of the Red regime that they break up Communist meetings.

The hooliganism, says the Warsaw newspaper Zycie Warszawy, has even reached the point that high school kids beat up their teachers. It adds:

The range of hooliganism "consists of public rows, foul language, window breaking, destruction of public property, like the spoiling of park benches, attack and fights which often end with bodily injuries and even death of the person attacked."

Man Accidentally Shot Near Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Harlow Volkmer, 26, of Brokensword was shot in the back of the left ear Friday afternoon while on a hunting trip near Benton, northwest of Bucyrus. He was struck by a stray pellet from a gun discharged by a companion, Donald Palm, also of Brokensword.

Wyandot County sheriff's authorities, said the two men, along with Volkmer's brother, Murray Volkmer of Bucyrus, were hunting rabbits near the edge of a steep ravine.

Palm apparently frightened a rabbit out of the brush and shot at it. A pellet from the shell ricocheted and struck Volkmer in the ear. He was taken to Bucyrus City Hospital for treatment of the wound. Time of the mishap was 3:15 p.m.

Hunters Warned Rabbit Hunting Season Is Over

O. H. Neimeyer, Marion County game protector, today warned all hunters in this area the rabbit hunting season ended yesterday at 5 p.m.

He said some confusion had arisen in the hunters' ranks as to the closing date. Some thought the season had been extended to next week due the postponement of its opening last month. Neimeyer warned any person hunting out of season would be liable to arrest and a fine.

number of deaths per 100 million miles.

Toll May Be Less

The council had estimated 360 persons would be killed in motor mishaps during the New Year's weekend ending midnight Sunday. However, Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said if the present rate was maintained for the rest of the holiday period the toll would be under 300, the lowest New Year's traffic death toll since 1949.

"Apparently the shock of the heavy Christmas holiday traffic toll plus the incessant emphasis placed on safety by press, TV and radio has sobered the New Year holiday drivers into better traffic behavior," Dearborn said.

There were 407 traffic deaths for a four-day New Year weekend last year while the record for four days was 611 in 1951-52. A non-holiday death test survey, from 6 p.m. Dec. 3 to midnight Dec. 6, showed that 310 died in traffic accidents, 33 in fires and 89 in miscellaneous accidents.

Toll in Ohio Far Under Christmas Day Carnage

By The Associated Press

Apparently determined not to repeat their ignominious record of the Christmas holiday weekend, Ohioans were driving with more caution during the New Year's holiday period.

During the Christmas weekend, 37 Ohioans lost their lives in accidents, 30 of them in traffic, the third highest toll in the nation. Ohio was running in seventh place this time.

With the New Year's weekend almost at the half-way point, seven accidental deaths have been recorded by The Associated Press, six of them in traffic mishaps. At that rate, the state will fall far short of the 45 accidental fatalities tabulated during last New Year's holiday. The 1953 traffic total for that period was 37.

Deaths by days:

Thursday

Robert M. Hutchinson, 60. Akron, when his automobile struck a bridge abutment near his home.

William Edward Wagner, 17, Rt. 1, St. Henry, when a car in which he was riding went off Ohio 119 four miles east of Fort Recovery.

Friday

Edward Simmons Jr., 23, Cincinnati, burned to death in a fire in his tenement building.

Jacob Hood, 62, Youngstown, struck and killed by an automobile as he walked along Ohio 7 near the Mahoning County line.

Raymond V. Jacobs, 18, Canton, and Marine Pfc. Nick Albert, 18, Canton, struck and killed by an auto in Canton.

Hursel L. White, 23, Toledo, when his car hit a standing tank car two miles south of U.S. 23 at the Toledo Terminal Railroad tracks.

32 Consignors Sell 738 Sheep, Lambs

A total of 738 sheep and lambs were sold by 32 consignors at the Friday sheep sale at the Marion Livestock Auction. The market held steady with last week's prices.

Prime lambs, $21; choice $20.50-$21; good, $10.50-$20.50; utility, $17-$19; cull, $15 down; heavy lambs, $18-$20; clip lambs, $18.25-$18.75; feeder lambs $16-$18; aged sheep for slaughter, $3-$6.

Since 1850, the western part of the United States has been growing faster than the East.

McCarthy

McCarthy, in Miami, said yesterday that "digging out communism" is not the "primary purpose" of his subcommittee and that it has been careful to check with the Internal Security subcommittee to avoid duplication. He continued:

"If in our investigations we find subversive elements in government which would prevent the government from operating properly, and no other congressional group is investigating, then we go ahead.

"I have no argument with Pat McCarran. Pat is one of the greatest senators we ever had and I have unlimited respect for him."

Still another Democrat, Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, said in a separate interview yesterday, "If something should be done about McCarthy, why don't the Republicans do it? It's not our problem."

Other Proposals Made

Other Democrats have proposed various rules changes that might limit some activities of McCarthy's subcommittee.

McCarthy riled some officials last year by announcing what he said was a voluntary agreement by a group of Greek ship owners to stop carrying cargo to Communist China.

He also has sent investigators to Europe checking on various matters and has probed U. S. employes of the United Nations and other international organizations.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said the GOP Policy Committee may study a change in rules under which committees subpoena witnesses, but denied this was aimed at McCarthy.

Meanwhile Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), who led the Democratic walkout from the McCarthy subcommittee last July, said yesterday "I don't anticipate returning to it regardless of what is worked out."

GRASS FIRE REPORTED

A grass fire, which was out when firemen arrived, was the only call answered over the holiday by the Marion Fire Department. Men from the W. Center St. station were called to answer a fire at 12:45 p.m. Friday at the home of Dr. John Boxwell on Harding Highway West. When they arrived, the fire had died. Reports show sparks from a bonfire had set fire to a field of hay. No loss was reported.

Traffic

E. Center St. at 12:50 p.m. Friday.

He was injured while riding in a car driven by Robert Lee Mash, 50, of 569 Wilson Ave. Police reports show Mash's car collided with a car driven by Milton M. Crawford, 18, of 291 Marion Ave. Considerable damage was done to the left front end of Mash's car, while the right rear end of Crawford's car was damaged.

Mrs. Maxine L. Packey of Columbus was taken to the hospital for a check-up after she was involved in an accident at 3:53 p.m. on Madison Ave. near E. Center St.

Police reports show Mrs. Packey was stopped for a traffic light, when her car was struck by one driven by Norman F. Lord, 25, of 550 N. State St. The left front end of Lord's car was damaged as was the right rear fender and bumper of Mrs. Packey's car.

Both Damaged

A car driven by Francis E. Wise, 37, of 366 W. Columbia St. was damaged in the right front fender when it struck the door of a parked car owned by Louis D. Hamilton of 334 E. Center St. at 207 S. Vine St. at 12:53 p.m. Friday. Police said Hamilton opened the door of his car at the same time Wise was passing.

The other Friday accident was reported at 4:59 p.m. at Holmes and Garden Sts. Minor damage was done to cars driven by Marion I. Rasey, 55, of 131 Fies Ave. and Roger L. Kingsley, 18, of 916 S. Prospect St. Police said Rasey's car was stopped and was struck by the Kingsley vehicle.

Patrol Reports Two

Ervie G. Morgan, 46, of 474 N. Grand Ave., escaped with only slight bruises when his car was demolished in one of the two Marion County accidents investigated yesterday by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Morgan's accident occurred at 11:15 p.m. about one mile east of Marion on E. Fairground St. The patrol reported that Morgan rolled over in the middle of the road when he failed to make a curve.

Two cars were extensively damaged in an accident on Route 4 about three miles north of Marion at 2:50 a.m. Drivers involved were Charles Thomas Groves, 18, of near Bloomville, O., and Leonard Ray Starcher, 19, of 916 N. Gebhardt St.

Starcher had stopped on the highway when Groves struck him from behind. Starcher was charged with parking on the highway and was cited to appear in Municipal Court at a later date.

Car Leaves Road

No one was injured in one minor accident reported Friday to the Marion County sheriff's office. A road sign was torn down at the intersection of County Roads 162 and 174 when an automobile driven by Lorin Eugene Rush, 31, of 395 N. Prospect St., went off the road shortly before 5 p.m. Friday.

Accident Follows Arrest

Charles Lewis, 26, of Sandusky failed to learn the lesson that a traffic ticket has to offer.

Thursday night he was arrested for reckless driving. Then two and one-half hours later he escaped injury when his car was demolished in a one-vehicle accident.

Lewis was stopped by State Patrolman Fred Scott for reckless operation on Route 4 south of Marion at 9:50 p.m. Thursday.

Shortly after midnight Scott was called out to investigate an accident at the junction of Routes 4 and 47 in Delaware County. It was Lewis, whose car had rolled over. He had been going east on Route 47 and failed to stop where the highway came to an end at Route 4.

Lewis was cited to appear in Municipal Court Jan. 9 to answer the reckless operation charge.

Two other minor accidents outside of Marion County were investigated yesterday by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

A car driven by Clarence Higgins, 37, of Cardington was extensively damaged in the body in an accident on Route 529 about two miles west of Cardington at 1 a.m. Higgins was east-bound when his car left the road on the right side and rolled over, the patrol reported.

Two cars were involved in an accident on Route 42 about three miles south of Cardington at 5:45 p.m. Drivers were Daniel Lamps, 20, of Massillon and Darwin Wayne Widmer, 29, of Bartletsville, Okla. Both cars were traveling south, and Lamps had stopped when Widmer struck him from behind.

The Lamps car received minor damage to the rear end, while the Widmer car received extensive damage in the front.

Widmer was charged with failure to stop without assured clear distance and was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Don Healea of Cardington.

Guest Pastor To Deliver Prospect Street Sermon

Rev. C. E. Wintringham, vice president in charge of public and alumni relations at Ohio Northern University at Ada, will be guest minister at the Prospect Street Methodist Church in Marion Sunday morning. He will speak on the theme, "The Gospel of New Beginnings," filling the pulpit for the regular pastor, the Rev. Fletcher Shoup who is on vacation in Florida.

Intermediate and Senior Fellowship activities will begin at 5 p.m. The Intermediate program topic will be "How Do I Know;" led by Tom Bowen, and "snack supper" at 6 will be served by Mrs. Harold Gleespen, Mrs. D. E. Lusch and Mrs. Roland Schaber, Concluding vespers will be at 7:15. There will be no Junior Choir rehearsal. On Tuesday night, the Wesleyan Service Guild will meet. The Missionary Committee will have charge and a film, "Our Newest Neighbors," will be shown. WSCS meetings are cancelled in January and February as vacation months for the society.

Collection of Sales Tax Falls During December

Although predictions from the State Treasurer's office were that total sales tax collections for the last six months of 1953 would be very close to 100 million dollars, figures for the week ending Dec. 19 for Marion County and most surrounding counties showed a decided decrease in comparison with the same period last year.

In 1953 the figure for that period for Marion County was $31,281 while for the previous year the amount was $33,712. On Dec. 19 collections since the first of July stood at $93,618,845 for the state.

Figures for surrounding counties for the week ending Dec. 19 (with 1952 figures listed in parentheses) are: Crawford, $16,241 ($21,328); Delaware, $9,855 ($12,189); Hardin, $8,514 ($10,274); Morrow, $3,304 ($4,764); Union $7,167 ($6,695); and Wyandot, $4,787 ($8,200).

Previews of the Coming Attractions at the Local Theaters

Adventure Film in 3-D Slated To Run at Ohio

"Hondo," an adventure-drama in 3-D and in color, is the current attraction at the Ohio Theater. Showing with it is a featurette attraction, Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse in "Mickey's Birthday Party." Both play through Wednesday.

Starring John Wayne, "Hondo" is the story about a grim man who must fight in a gun battle not of his choosing. When he kills the outlaw, he takes off through desert and mountain wilderness to reach the man's wife who has been deserted in hostile Apache territory. The story relates how he finds her, falls in love with her, and then must tell her of his deed.

"Mickey's Birthday Party" marks the 25th birthday anniversary of the first Mickey Mouse film and is comprised of six cartoons, Disney's own selection of Mickey's most representative adventures.

Showing Thursday through Saturday will be a double feature, "Drums of Tahiti" and "Singin' in the Corn." The former stars Dennis O'Keefe and Patricia Medina, and heading the cast in the latter is Judy Coanova.

In the former, O'Keefe is seen as an American who, living in the tropical city of Papeete, on the island of Tahiti in 1877, agrees to aid the aged Tahitian Queen Pomare in preventing the French from taking possession by smuggling in arms for the islanders. He attempts to evade a knowledgable French official by claiming he is visiting San Francisco to get married, although the real purpose of his furtive mission is to pick up the needed munitions. Finding Patricia Medina, a San Francisco entertainer, O'keefe pays her to sham marriage and to return to Tahiti with him, and the guns.

The latter is a reprint Western comedy with music.

Film at Marion Features Robert, Elizabeth Taylor

"Ivanhoe," technicolor production starring Robert Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, Joan Fontaine, George Sanders and Emlyn Williams, and "A Slight Case of Larceny" with Mickey Rooney, Eddie Bracken and Elaine Stewart, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion Theater.

The former, filmed entirely in England, is the story of one brave man's attempt to restore to King Richard the Lion-Hearted the throne stolen from him by his brother, Prince John. In the latter, Mickey Rooney is seen as "Geechy" Cheevers who is determined to get-rich-quick by fair means or foul and his pal, portrayed by Eddie Bracken, who becomes the partner of "Geechy's" various schemes and always ends up with the dirty end of the stick.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Fort Algiers" and "Big Leaguer." The former stars Yvonne DeCarlo and Carlos Thompson, heading the cast in the latter are Edward G. Robinsons and Vera-Ellen.

"Fort Algiers" tells the adventurous story of a spy, played by Yvonne DeCarlo, who is sent by the French to discover the person and story behind wild Arab uprisings. "Big Leaguer" unfolds the drama of the conflict of a youngster who has an unquenchable ambition to become a baseball star, but whose father wants him to go to college to study law. It takes the girl who loves him to strengthen his resolve and see him emerge as a potential Giants big leaguer.

The attractions Thursday through Saturday will be "Battle Circus" starring Humphrey Bogart and June Allyson, and "Phantom From Space."

The former is the love story of a surgeon with an American Mobile Army Surgical Hospital unit and of a nurse who joins the unit behind the Korean battle lines. "Phantom From Space" tells of an intrepid inhabitant of another planet who comes to the earth in a device that travels at the speed of 5,000 miles per hours, murders two persons, starts a series of explosions and threatens to throw the entire earth into panic before he disintegrates in the atmosphere.

Palace Theater Books Pair of Twin Features

"Walking My Baby Back Home," a new technicolor musical co-starring Donald O'Connor and Janet Leigh, will be the main attraction of a double feature Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

Completing the billing will be "Sea of Lost Ships" with John Derek, Wanda Hendrix and Walter Brennan.

The former picture is concerned with a romance between an ex-GI bandleader played by Donald O'Connor, and an ex-WAC songbird, portrayed by Janet Leigh. Donald tries to build his band and also to win Janet's heart, with the story moving from the Army to his Park Ave. home, to the one-night-stand "road," through a minstrel show tour, into the rehearsal hall and finally on to the concert stage. Featured are Comedian Buddy Hackett, Lori Nelson and Scat Man Crothers.

"Sea of Lost Ships" depicts the exploits of the International Ice Patrol and the Coast Guard in their battles with skyscraper icebergs similar to the one which sank the Titanic. It tells of Derek and Jaeckel who grow up together in the tradition of the Coast Guard. A romantic triangle develops when they enter the famous Coast Guard Academy and Derek falls in love with Wanda Hendrix and vice versa although Jaeckel has been dating her.

Billed for Wednesday through Saturday is another double feature, "Here Come the Girls" starring Bob Hope, and "Flight To Tangier."

The latter, in technicolor, stars Joan Fontaine, Jack Palance, Corinne Calvet and Robert Douglas. It concersn the activities of a strangely assorted group out to make easy money. They meet in the dark and forbidding city of Tangier where the dangerous game of international politics and intrigues is played out.

DONALD O'CONNOR and Janet Leigh chute the chutes in one of the sequences from the technicolor musical "Walking My Baby Back home." It will be one attraction of a double feature Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

Angry Woman Postmaster in Texas Rebels

ALICE, Tex. (AP)—You couldn't buy a stamp in this city's post office today because an angry woman postmaster had locked 'em up and walked out.

'Charging "politics" because she is to be replaced, Mrs. Marguerite Mullen yesterday put all cash on hand and stamps into her post office vault, clanged the door shut, turned the office over to a clerk and left.

She said that until an acting postmaster is named or a postal inspector arrives the post office will handle only incoming and outgoing mail.

Apparently the next move is up to postal authorities. They have been unavailable for comment.

Mrs. Mullen, a Democrat, has been postmaster here since August 1934. Last month Asst. Postmaster General N. R. Abrams notified her she would be replaced.

Mrs. Mullen charged she was being "fired for political reasons."

Thursday, she announced she would turn the post office over to a clerk if a qualified successor had not been appointed by 1 p.m., yesterday.

She said she is not resigning from her $6,070 a year job, just transferring the office. She plans an appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

Vessels Collide Off West Coast

Ore Ship Limps to Port With 2 Holds Flooded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The ore ship Permanente Silverbow limped toward San Francisco under Coast Guard escort today after two of her holds were flooded in a slashing collision with a freighter off the northern California coast.

The 7,629-ton ore carrier, southbound from Portland, Ore., with 40-45 crewmen, collided late last night with the Manila-bound 7,606-ton freighter Colorado, about 145 miles north of San Francisco.

The Colorado's forepeak was flooded but she reported no danger.

The Silverbow radioed the flooding appeared halted. A passing Standard Oil tanker, the J. N. MacGaregill, the Colorado and two Coast Guard cutters, were accompanying the Silverbow to San Francisco, where it was expected to arrive by mid-morning.

Real Estate Transfers

Eleven real estate transfers were recorded at the office of Marion County Recorder Arthur L. Watt during the week from December 21 through 26.

This was considerably less than for the previous week when 32 transfers were recorded. The recorder's office was open only four days last week instead of the usual six days.

Number of real estate loans also showed a marked decline down to 13 with a total valuation of $105,035 last week from 23 the previous week with a total valuation of $140,905. Of the loans granted last week, savings and loan associations granted seven for a total of $32,550; banks three for $12,500, individual, one for $2,781 and two were obtained from other sources for $57,204.

Two leases were also recorded. They were to The Pure Oil Co. by Howard C. Hull and others and to the Wyandot Popcorn Co. and others by Hugo Malo and others.

In the report of real estate transfers which appeared in the Dec. 26 Star two errors appeared. Record of a mortgage taken by the National City Bank of Marion on property of George N. DeWolfe and others was incorrectly listed as a transfer of real estate. Also in a transfer from the Wyandot Popcorn Co. the name of the person to whom part two Marion lots were transferred should have been James S. Greetham, not James S. Stratham.

Paul Augenstein and others to Howard C. Hull and others, 0.046 acres in Waldo Township and part Waldo lot.

Fannie A. Bucklew to Earl Eugene Martin and others, Marion lot.

John C. Driscoll by administrator to Harmon J. Cleveland and others, Marion lot, $2,000.

James M. Frank and others to Robert M. Schneck and others, part three Marion lots.

John Macklin and others to Kenneth Orville Thome and others, part Marion lot.

Evelyn Moore to Dorothy E. Ditter, part Marion lot.

Bertha May Noblet to Benjamin H. Noblet, part Marion lot.

Ira R. Oswald and others by sheriff to Ira R. Oswald, land in Prospect Township.

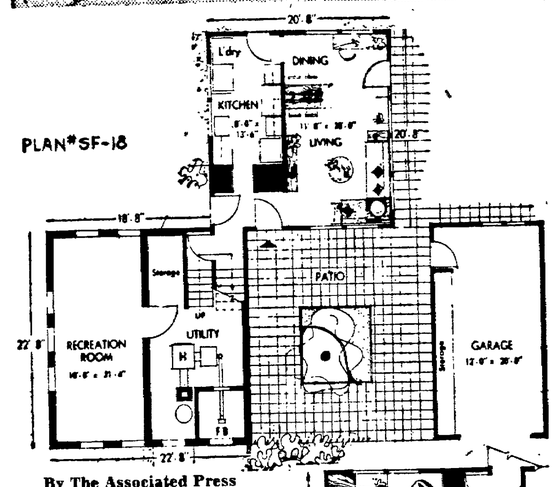
Jesse Parcher to J. W. Weaver, 0.30 acre in Marion Township.

Starr-Jackson Mining Co. to Howard L. Randles and others, 549½ acres in Big Island Township.

Nora L. Williams to Noah C. Williams and others, seven Marion lots.

G. William Weir to Susie M. Weir and others, land in Scott Township.

Modern House Design



By The Associated Press

A MODERN house designed for solid fuel heat, this plan was drawn by Rudard A. Jones, architect, for the University of Illinois Small Homes Council. The use of an automatic anthracite stoker and ash removal unit is envisioned. Fuel delivery is through a hopper on the driveway turnaround. Sleeping level is over utility level. (Plans are available from the Anthracite Information Bureau, 122 E. 42 St., New York 17, N.Y.)

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: Regarding houses that do not contain a basement: Have you any information as to whether the floors are cold in the winter time and if dampness and mildew occur in such a house?

A: A house of this type should have a moistureproof and vaporproof insulation in blanket or batt joists. In addition to this, the ground should be covered with a moistureproof paper, overlapping the sheets about six inches. The sheets should also overlap onto the foundation walls for the same distance. All laps should then be sealed with an asphalt roofing cement.

Q: What would you suggest applying to cement floors before putting down wool rugs, inlaid linoleum or a felt-base floorcovering? The house has no basement.

A: If no asphalt dampproofing was used when the concrete floors were laid, none of the above floorcoverings can be put down on the concrete since it is in contact with the ground. Moisture from the ground would tend to mildew or or destroy such coverings. Asphalt tile or a plastic-asbestos tile can be used.

Q: Some time ago I purchased a home with the foundations built of local sandstone. During the summer months I found that this kind of stone retained lots of moisture and it seemed to be crumbling making the basement floor messy. Is it possible to eliminate this condition by coating the inside of these walls with some type of water resisting cement? Inquiry at the local shops gave me no solution.

A. If there is no water seepage, the walls can be given a couple of coats of a dampproof cement-base paint. Dealers in masonry materials, and some paint stores, carry such paint in stock. Before applying the paint, wirebrush the walls to remove as much of the loose sand in the stone as possible. Since the moisture appears on the foundation walls during the summer months, I am sure the condition is due to condensation, when the weather is humid. At such times the basement windows and doors should be closed and an electric dehumidifier should be in operation. When the air is clear and dry, all windows must be opened in order to obtain thorough ventilation.

Heller To Address Foremen's Meeting

Ott Heller, Marion Barons hockey team coach, will be a guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Marion Foremen's Club Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Columbian Hall.

Illustrating his talk with a film, Heller will explain the game of hockey, how it is played and some of the rules and answer questions.

Billed as "Education Night" the program will center mainly on an educational motion picture depicting the job of foremen and illustrating methods of getting work done, how to handle employes and similar problems.

Following presentation of the film, a discussion period will be held. There will be games and refreshments at the meeting, Paul Shelton, president of the club, said.

U. N. MODEL

ALFRED, N.Y. (UP)—The Model General Assembly of the United Nations, Middle Atlantic Division, will be held at Alfred University next April 9-11. Between 250 and 300 persons from 60 colleges and universities are expected. The model assembly parallels U. N. activities, with students assigned as representatives for nations to discuss current world problems.

Michigan State Nips UCLA; Sooners Top Maryland

Oklahoma Defenders Blank Nation's Leading Team 7-0

NEW YORK (AP)—Oklahoma and Michigan State boasted impressive victories today over two of the nation's leading defensive teams, national champion Maryland and UCLA.

Oklahoma, ranked No. 4, defeated the one-touchdown favorite Terps 7-0 in the Orange Bowl for the only form reversal yesterday. The Spartans, No. 3, put on a scorching second-half drive to come from behind and give the Big Ten its seventh victory in eight Rose Bowl pact appearances, 28-20, over UCLA.

But the day's oddity belonged to the Cotton Bowl match in which an Alabama player leaped off the bench to tackle a score-bound runner. Rice got the touchdown and the victory, too, 28-6.

Georgia Tech captured its third straight post-season triumph 42-19 at the expense of West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl and Texas Tech rallied for a 35-13 trouncing of Auburn in the Gator Bowl with Bobby Cavazos scoring three touchdowns.

Individually, Oklahoma's halfback Larry Grigg, Michigan State halfback Billy Wells and end Ellis Duckett, All-America Paul Cameron of UCLA, Rice halfback Dickey Moegle and Tech quarterback Pepper Rodgers were among the standouts.

In the Orange Bowl the Sooners, who gained more ground than any other team all season, showed Maryland they were masters at defense as well. Twice in the first half they stopped the Terps inside the 10 yard line. And in the final period Grigg halted the last Maryland threat by intercepting a pass in the end zone.

Maryland had allowed the least yards by rushing of any team but the Oklahomans churned 80 yards in 11 plays for the game's only score. Grigg took a pitchout from Gene Calame and went 26 yards for the tally.

The previously unbeaten Terrapins had the use of quarterback Bernie Faloney for only five plays. An injured left knee kept him sidelined until late in the third quarter and he never returned after a Maryland drive stalled on the 30.

UCLA, a three-time Rose Bowl loser, held a 14-0 edge early in the second quarter when Michigan State began to explode. Duckett broke through to block a kick, the first time this has ever happened against a Red Sanders' coached Bruin team, and recovered it for a TD.

Wells then led a second half ground assault that tore to shreds a defense rated the sixth best against rushing during the regular season. His 62-yard punt return late in the game iced the decision. Earlier Leroy Bolden and Wells had scored to climax earth-bound marches of 78 and 73 yards.

Cameron was splendid in defeat as he scored once from the two and passed for the other two UCLA touchdowns.

In Dallas, Alabama fullback Tommy Lewis gave his team an early 6-0 lead but really made bowl history when he got up off the bench midway in the second period to tackle Moegle at the 'Bama 42 on a run which had started on the Rice five. It marked the first incident of its kind in major post-season competition.

Officials ruled it a 95-yard touchdown play and Rice was ahead 14-6. Moegle, putting on an unprecedented Cotton Bowl performance in which he gained 265 yards in 11 tries for a 24 yard per try average, also had touchdown runs of 79 yards and 34 yards.

Poised Pepper Rodgers took advantage of a leaky West Virginia pass defense to toss a trio of scoring passes in the highest scoring affair in Sugar Bowl annals. Tech had gained 233 air yards by halftime and when the Mountaineers reorganized their defenses the Techmen attacked their flanks to complete the rout.

In other games Texas Western swamped vaunted Mississippi Southern 37-14 in the Sun Bowl, LaCrosse Teachers and Missouri Valley fought to a 12-12 tie in the Cigar Bowl, Ft. Ord (Calif.) romped over Great Lakes 67-12 in the Salad Bowl and Prairie View stopped Texas Southern 33-8 in the Prairie View Bowl. In a night game, East Texas and Arkansas state tied 7-7 in the Tangerine Bowl.

Spartans Rally In Final Half For 28-20 Win

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Michigan State's Spartans proved once again that it takes two halves to make a whole as they came from behind for the 28-20 Rose Bowl victory over the UCLA Bruins.

For it was the sparkling play of the green clad crew from East Lansing in the second half yesterday that overcome a 14-7 deficit and gave the Big Ten the bowl title again after a year's sojourn in the Pacific Coast Conference.

During the first half, it appeared UCLA would repeat the feat of USC, which last year turned back the Big Ten invaders for the first time in the history of the bowl rivalry between the two conferences dating back to 1947.

The Bruins gained 154 yards during the two opening quarters to 56 for Michigan State and the score stood 14-7 in their favor.

But as the Spartans took the third quarter kickoff before the capacity crowd of 101,000 it was a different club—fired apparently by Coach Biggie Munn during the intermission. In 14 crisp plays the Spartans went 78 yards with Leroy Bolden going over from one yard out, and fullback Evan Slonac added the second of his four straight conversions to tie the count.

In three plays the Bruins couldn't gain after taking the kickoff, punted, and the Spartans went on the march again. This one went 73 yards, abetted by an 18-yard pass from quarterback Tommy Yewcic to Bolden, a 27-yard run by right halfback Billy Wells and a 15-yard penalty. That put the Spartans ahead to stay. After UCLA scored again in the fourth period, but missed the conversion, Wells scooted 62 yards with a punt for the clincher.

Billy, the usually unsung member of the Big Ten co-champions' pony backfield, was the game's leading ground gainer with 80 yards rushing in addition to his punt return, and was voted the game's outstanding player by the Helms Athletic Foundation.

There are about 300 species of carnivorous mammals.

Big Ten Teams Begin Bids for League Crown

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The Big Ten basketball teams come back to their home neighborhood tonight for the opening of the conference season and the last of the holiday tournaments ends at Owensboro, Ky.

Duquesne, the No. 2 team in the country and winner of the New York Holiday Festival, takes time out to demonstrate the game to the University of Mexico.

Indiana, the defending NCAA champ which lost for the first time last week, visits Michigan and Purdue is at Wisconsin but the major Big Ten interest will be centered on Champaign, Ill., where eighth ranking Illinois entertains sixth ranking Minnesota. Minnesota suffered its first defeat earlier in the week against Kentucky while Illinois also has been beaten once, by Oklahoma A&M.

Holy Cross, the Sugar Bowl champion, returns home for an intersectional engagement with Alabama. The Crusaders currently are ranked 12th but probably will move up on the strength of their New Orleans' success.

The All-American City Tournament at Owensboro, last of some 30 holiday competitions, matches Maryland against Kentucky Wesleyan in tonight's final.

The Terps' basketball team had considerably more success last night than its vaunted football team did yesterday afternoon as it stopped high-scoring Evansville College 66-58.

Kentucky Wesleyan, the host, edged St. Francis of Brooklyn 71-69.

New Year's action was scarce but in a major upset Seton Hall lost its first home game in 47 starts dating back to the 1950-51 season. William and Mary beat the Pirates 57-55.

27 Participate In Alumni Tilt At Prexy Gym

Twenty-seven former basketball stars at Harding High School hooked up in the first annual alumni duel Friday night at the school. An estimated 200 fans turned out for the game and were treated to a fine shooting performance by the entire group. Twenty-two players broke into the scoring column.

A white team, headed by Dick Mulvaine, whipped the red team, led by Howard Gilbert, by an 86-49 count. Jack Daum of the winning crew took scoring laurels with 19 markers. For the winners, Dick Bender added 13, Merle Daum 12, Dick Riddle 11 and Dick Underwood 10. Other performers for the winners were Elvin Beach, Dan Day, Dick Leffler, Paul Geissler, Don Johnson, Don West and Mulvaine.

Dean Ludwig with 13 and Bud England with 10 topped the loser's attack. Other team members included Russ Reichardt, J. B. Williams, Gerald Strauss, Fritz Guy, Gilbert, Robbie Miller, Dick Gherman, Bill Buckingham, Gene Winters, Ed Porter, Andy Simon, Jim Russell and Roger Fick.

Ken Somerlot, Harding athletic coordinator, said plans were made to make the game an annual affair. "Everyone had a lot of fun out of the game and it was agreed that it should be an annual affair. Many of the boys felt that everyone would work to get into shape if this were an annual event at the Christmas vacation," Somerlot said.

Sycamore Takes Third Title in Fifth Tourney

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Sycamore Wildcats claimed their third title in five attempts at the annual Sycamore holiday cage tournament as they romped over Republic of Seneca county 88-38.

Danny Bogard led the scoring with 34 points in the Wednesday night game. Vaughn Shell was second high with 20 points.

The Wildcats outpointed the Seneca countians in every period as they led at the quarters 16-10, 44-21 and 62-31. The Wildcats had beaten New Washington the night before 79-39.

Barons, Toledo In 2-Game Set Over Weekend

Marion's Barons, with their fourth straight conquest of Troy's Bruins under their belts, are in action again Sunday on the home ice. The home forces host Toledo's Mercurys here after both clubs clash on Toledo's ice tonight.

The Barons, in fifth spot in the International Hockey League standings with 34 points, will attempt to climb up the ladder with a pair of wins.

Toledo is currently nestled in second spot in the IHL behind Cincinnati's Mohawks.

While Marion engages Toledo in a home and home series over the weekend, Grand Rapids will be meeting Cincinnati twice and Johnstown will clash with Troy. The games will have a definite bearing on Marion's chances of advancing higher in the IHL standings.

The locals will be going against a rough defense and three of the IHL's top four scorers in Toledo. The Mercurys have allowed but 88 goals in 33 games this season, second only to Cincinnati which has had only 76 pucks enter its nets. Toledo Goalie Bill Tibbs has three shut-outs to his credit.

Marion will be facing Dick Pontarollo, who is tied with Johnstown's Don Hall for top spot in the IHL scoring race, and the league's next two scoring leaders. Pontarollo has shoved in 28 goals this season, tops in that department, and has been in on 39 assists for 58 points. Roy Hammond, with 17 goals and 31 assists, and John Kovich, with 16 goals and 32 assists, each have 48 points, ranking them second among IHL scorers.

The Barons will be matching the Mercurys with Ken Schultz and Gordon Vejprava. Both are among the top 10 scorers, Schultz having 21 goals and 20 assists and Vejprava 23 goals and 16 assists. Vejprava leads the IHL in hat tricks with three.

The last meeting between the two clubs here Dec. 6 resulted in a 5-2 win for the Barons, first of the year over the Mercurys. Prior to that, Toledo had notched 6-3, 4-3 and 5-2 wins. In the 6-3 wins Nov. 4, first meeting of the year between the two clubs, Toledo scored four goals in 52 seconds for a new organized amateur hockey record.

Marion will be attempting to break its road jinx in the game tonight. The locals have been able to win only four of 14 games on the road while at home have posted an impressive 13-5 mark. Maion has won six of its last seven home games and nine of the past 11 contests played on the Coliseum ice. A 6-2 loss to Louisville Sunday marred the Barons' home ice mark. Away from home, Marion has notched only one victory in the last five games on enemy ice. It has split even in the last four games after winning three straight and four of five tilts.

After the pair of contests with Toledo, Ft. Wayne will come in on Wednesday and the Barons will engage Cincinnati in a home and home series, playing there next Saturday night, and here Sunday afternoon.

Lightweights Clash In Television Bout

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ralph Dupas, 18-year-old New Orleans high school student, opens his 1954 campaign for more lightweight honors tonight when he meets punching Paddy DeMarco of Brooklyn in a nationally televised 10-round bout.

Dupas, ranked third among lightweights by the Ring magazine, will be making his first start in a regulation 10-rounder.

'Too Emotional' Says Grid Star After Illegal Stop From Bench

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Alabama's Tommy Lewis may have added a new one for the book of blunders yesterday with his 12th man tackle in the Cotton Bowl, but he has lots of sympathy.

"I feel sorrier for him than I can say," said Rice's Dicky Moegle, who was spilled in the midst of an obvious touchdown run by Lewis' bruising tackle straight from the Crimson bench.

There were some booes immediately following the incident, but when Lewis came back in a few plays later the crowded stadium applauded as he and Moegle shook hands.

"I'm too emotional," Lewis said, "I know I'll be hearing about this the rest of my life."

And he probably was right since grid fans were immediately reminded of the 64-yard wrong-way Roy Riegels run in the 1929 Rose Bowl. The California center grabbed a Georgia Tech fumble and was saved from scoring for his foes only by a teammate's tackle on the one-yard line.

Irish, Morral Lock Horns in Coliseum Game

One of the season's top basketball games is slated for the Coliseum tonight when St. Mary meets Morral. Both teams represent about the best Marion County has to offer in the cage sport.

Morral will be putting its 10-game winning streak on the line against a St. Mary team that will be out to bring its record up to the .500 mark.

Morral now sits on top of the county school league with no defeats in five starts. The Wildcats dropped their first encounter to Sulphur Springs 78-59 but have come the rest of the way without a defeat, winning 10 straight including league victories.

The Irish have been able to win only three of their seven starts. In their own holiday carnival this week, they downed Elm Valley 64-50 but lost out to Lexington 52-51 in the finals.

For Morral Vern Hensel will probably start Clair Hensel and Jim Shifflet at the forwards, John Craycraft at center and Ted Murphy and Junior Bell in the guard slots.

Ray Robbins' lineup for the Irish will probably find Jack O'Keefe and Larry Ryan in the double-pivot positions with Mike Anderson, Roger Micheli and Butch Merchant operating on the outside.

Craycraft and Anderson are the men to watch. Each one has been pacing his respective team's scoring all season.

Craycraft has poured in 184 points for Morral to post an average of 16.7 per game, while Anderson has scored 115 for the Irish for an average of 16.4

Hensel is another Morral player who bears watching. He has racked up 180 markers in 11 games for a 16.4 average.

Craycraft and Anderson are the tallest men on their respective squads. Craycraft at 6-1 tops a Morral team that averages about 5-11, while Anderson, who stands just under 6-0, is tall man among the Irish who average around 5-10.

Tonight's game is not a league contest, St. Mary not being a member of the county school league.

A reserve tilt at 7 will open play.

Two Buck Gridders Start In East-West Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With the ruckus of other post-season games fading offstage, the grid stars of 29 universities took the spotlight today for what has been called "football's finest hour"—the 29th East-West game.

Watched by an overflow crowd of 63,000 at Kezar Stadium here and additional millions over a nationwide television and radio hookups, "the men who run so kids may walk" close out their college grid careers for the benefit of the Shrine crippled children's hospital.

Preceded by lavish pageantry, the game pitted an eastern ground steamroller against the passing and deception of the finest college football talent in the West.

Rated 6½ point favorites, the East, coached by Ray Eliot of Illinois, presented a crushing line and the hard running of backs Johnny Lattner and Neil Worden of Notre Dame; Gene Filipski, former Army star who wound up at Villanova, and Steve Meilinger of Kentucky, plus many others.

The West, led by Coach Chuck Taylor of Stanford, had the passing of Bobby Garrett of Stanford—the nation's leading thrower—and Francis (Cotton) Davidson of Baylor, the receiving of ends like Tom Nickoloff of Southern California and the break-away run possibilities of backs like Veryl Switzer of Kansas State.

The East's starting lineup includes two Ohio State stalwarts, end Tommy Hague and guard Mike Takacs.

Bevo Tops Scoring For Small College Basketball Squads

NEW YORK (AP)—Bevo Francis, finally established as a big leaguer in college basketball circles, maintained the nation's top individual scoring average among the small schools last week.

The sensational star of the Rio Grande, Ohio, five has tossed in an average of 43.9 points per game. He made 131 field goals and 89 free throws for 351 points in eight games.

Statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau also show that Vince Leta of Lycoming is second with a 36 point average followed by Carson Lovett of Franklin and Marshall 35.8 and Jake Handzelek, Juniata 32.8.

Biggie Munn Said Prepared To Quit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Speculation over the fate of Biggie Munn, coach of the Michigan State team that beat UCLA in the Rose Bowl yesterday, was stirred today by a "whisper."

The Los Angeles Times carried a story this morning quoting UCLA Coach Red Sanders as saying that while he was congratulating Munn after the game in Pasadena the Michigan State mentor whispered to him that it was his last game as a football coach.

Sanders told a Times sports writer that Munn informed him he would soon take over the Michigan State athletic director's post being vacated by Ralph Young.

Previously on several occasions Munn said emphatically that any information on the coaching situation at Michigan State would have to come from the college president, John A. Hannah.

Martin Named Most Valuable Series Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Martin, scrappy second baseman of the world champion New York Yankees, today was awarded the Babe Ruth Memorial Plaque, voted each year to the outstanding player in the World Series.

It marked the fifth straight year that the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America picked a member of the Yankees. Joe Page earned the honor in 1949, Jerry Coleman got it in 1950, Phil Rizzuto in 1951 and Johnny Mize in 1952.

It was Martin's single to center, scoring Hank Hauer in the final game, that gave the Yankees a 4-3 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers last October to clinch the Series in six games. Even before he delivered the decisive blow, however, Martin had played the starring role.

Billy's final hit was his 12th of the series. That matched the greatest number of hits ever made in World Series play. All the others, however, needed seven or eight games to reach the 12-hit total. Martin did it in six games.

Martin batted an even .500 in the series, a mark topped only by Babe Ruth's .625 in the four-game series between the Yankees and Cardinals in 1928.

Marvel Unmasked In Bout at Armory

The Masked Marvel was unmasked Thursday night at the Marion Armory by Jim Lewis in their opening 30-minute bout. He was identified as Dick Hurtz of Houston.

The Marvel had grabbed Lewis with a crab hold only to have the highway patrolman land a right on his chin and rip off the mask. The bout went 11 minutes.

In the semi-final, Sallie Halasie won in straight falls over his midget opponent, Vito Gonzales. The first fall was won with an airplane spin after 22 minutes and the second ended after 12 minutes with a reverse head scissors.

Scotty Williams and Billy Fox wrestled to a no-contest decision in their main event. Williams won the first fall and Fox took the second but both went out of the ring and were counted out in the first fall.

The Arabian camel is unknown in the wild state.

Woman Editor Loses Legs in Auto Collision

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Miss Rebecca F. Gross, editor of the Lock Haven Express, was in "satisfactory" condition at the Williamsport Hospital today following amputation of both her legs.

The 48-year-old newspaperwoman was injured in a two-car collision in the early hours of New Year's Eve as she drove to the airport here to meet her sister. She was thrown out of her car by the crash and landed against a utility pole. Her car spun around crushing her legs against the pole.

Ironically, Miss Gross had just finished writing an editorial on safe holiday driving before the ill-fated ride.

Title of the editorial was "Who Wants to Start the New Year in a Hospital or a Morgue?"

Widely known in the newspaper world, Miss Gross was one of seven American newspapermen and women to make a tour of Russia last year, marking an historic reversal in Russian policy.

The word "cemetery" literally means "sleeping place."

Waitress' Memory Amazes Customers

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — Twenty-five members of a social group arrived at the Reservoir Club and took seats at tables.

A waitress came over and stood silently for nearly a minute while the 25 rattled off their orders for assorted drinks.

When they had finished, the waitress nodded and headed for the service bar.

"Hey, where you going?" demanded one of the guests, incredulously. "You didn't write anything down."

The waitress turned and smiled. "You'll get what you ordered," she reassured him.

"If you bring those 25 drinks and serve us all just what we ordered," said the man, "I'll give you $5."

The waitress returned with the drinks, swiftly distributed them—and pocketed the $5.

Nobody who knows Miss Eleanor Candis, 25, a pert brunette of Arlington, will be surprised at her performance. Since she started as a waitress seven years ago she has astonished her guests with her almost miraculous memory.

"It just comes naturally," she explains. "I don't use any system for memorizing things."

One day a young woman ordered a drink.

"You don't take ice," Miss Candis said.

"Why do you say that?"

"A couple of years ago I waited on you in a Boston hotel and I remember," said Miss Candis.

The young woman smiled. "Yes," she said, "you did. But the reason I didn't want ice that night was I had a cold."

On another occasion a man came in and sat at a table. To the waitress about to take his order Miss Candis said: "He'll order rock-and-rye, with giner ale on the side. And when it's half gone he'll order another."

He did just that. It developed that Miss Candis had waited on him some three years previously at the Boston hotel.

Some of her friends think Miss Candis is a misfit at the Reservoir Club. They figure it would be more appropriate if she worked in nearby Somerville—at the Memory Lane.

Eggs are one of the few farm products in which Connecticut is self-sufficient, with production totaling about two dozen a week for every family in the state.
